Chicago Conference Yesterday.

Prospects for a settlement, however,
became fainter after his departure, when President J. W. Kline of the International Brotherhood of Blacksmiths and Helpers announced that plans for meeting Mr. Kruttschnitt on the Pacific Coast practically had been abandoned. This statement was issued after he received telegrams from President Franklin of the Bollers' Union and President Ryan of the car men's organization.

It is expected that an appeal to the directors of the Harriman roads will be made tomorrow in a last effort to stave off a conflict.

CONFERENCE FRUITLESS.
Mr. Kline held a conference during the day, lasting for more than an hour, with Vice-President Kruttschnitt, with a view of obtaining a basis for a settlement and at the conclusion of the meeting, it was announced that his mission had been fruitless.

It was learned that the management of the Harriman roads is determined to adhere to its position of refusing to treat with the Federation of Mechanical Trades, and has been anticipating a strike move for several weeks. President Kline had scarcely returned to his office before telegrams reached him from members of advisory boards of the Federation.

When he telephoned his wife and told her he had fallen down on elevator shaft last night, she was told to call the police and have the shaft closed.

ANNIES DIE OF PELLAGRA.

Twenty-two Texas Victims of New Plague, Nearly All of Them of Same Name.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
AUSTIN (Tex.) Aug. 24.— [Exclusive Dispatch.] The State Board of Health reported today that thirty-three persons died of pellagra in Texas last month, an increase of seven over the previous month and the highest number ever reported for any month. Twenty-two were females. "A peculiar coincidence regarding deaths
among females from pellagra," the report says, "is the greatest number bearing the Christian names of Anna, Ann or Annie."

Steamer With Crew of Ten Not

Perilous Trip of Thirty-six Hours in Open Yawl Results in Safety for Seven.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
DETROIT, Aug. 24.—A special to the Journal from Midland, Ont., says
the steamer C. C. Martin of Midland, with a crew of ten, was probably lost in the storm on Georgian Bay Monday night. The barge Albatross, in tow of the Martin, sank during the storm, but her crew reached the lighthouse at the mouth of the French River last night in a boat.
Nothing has been heard from the Martin.

As soon as the survivors of the Albatross had reached shore, after their battle with the storm, searching parties went out for trace of the Martin. They returned without success. Among the ten persons on the Martin were Capt. George Vent and his wife, Richard Melin, James Hood and Charles Oliver, all of Midland.
The yawl, bearing the survivors from the Albatross, were a man, a woman and two children, a girl of 2 years and a boy of 2 months—here evidence of a terrible battle with the elements.

The craft had been buffeted for thirty-six hours. There had been no food for the shipwrecked persons since the Albatross went down. Some of them were not well protected from exposure and are now said to be dangerously ill.

Aged Woman Tells of Young

CHATELAIN COURT HOUSE
(Va.) Aug. 24.—On the anniversary of his marriage to the woman he is accused of having murdered, Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., sat in a stuffy courtroom today and heard seven witnesses give testimony on which the prosecution expects to send him to the electric chair.

On the courthouse lawn a few feet away, stood the blood soaked automobile in which the young wife met her death. Beattie calmly inspected the car when it arrived and not once during the proceedings did he show any signs of blanching. Twice during the cross examination of two detectives he flushed with amusement and appeared to struggle to hold back his laughter.

PHYSICIAN EXAMINED.
Of the seven witnesses two were physicians—Dr. Herbert Mann and
Dr. Wilbur Mercer—who examined Mrs. Beattie's body on the night of the murder. The others were Thomas Owen, a court stenographer, and uncle of Mrs. Beattie; Detectives Wren and Whitshire, of Richmond, who investigated the case; Coroner Loving of Chesterfield county and May Stuart, an aged woman, who told of Beattie's association with Beulah Binford.

None of the witnesses except Mr.
Owen recalled that Beattie displayed any grief over the tragedy. Others said they had not seen him shed a tear.

With the first witness, called merely to establish the death of Mrs.
Beattie, their testimony was largely a review of what was brought out at the inquest and it was not until May Stuart took the stand that the prosecution began its attempts to disclose the motive for the crime.

Exchanged Hard Cash for Fleeting Love.

LOS ANGELES NURSE FINDS LOVE'S PATHWAY DEVIOUS.

Alleges That Son of Mrs. George M. Pullman, Jr., Wooded and Won Her Heart and Cash, and, Departing Left Her Penniless on San Francisco Streets.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Alvira A.
Bowen, a graduate nurse of Los Angeles, and a young woman with more than the ordinary share of good looks, has appealed to the police in an effort to locate James Coleman Brasell, son of Mrs. George M. Pullman, Jr., of Fair Oaks.

According to the story told by Miss Bowen, she was working as head nurse in the Southern Pacific Hospital at Los Angeles, when she met Brasell. He paid her considerable attention, she claims, and finally induced her to accompany him on a trip to the Imperial Valley. While on this trip—again according to the story of Miss Bowen—he borrowed from her, at various times and in various sums, a total of $398.

Following the trip through the Imperial Valley the couple came to this city, where she says she persuaded him to advance him further sums, giving her in exchange checks which were later returned by the bank upon which they were drawn.

Still later, she declares, he left her penniless at a local hotel, and was subsequently arrested for non-payment of his account there. He was extricated from this difficulty by his mother, who came to the rescue and paid the hotel bill.

PARCEL (Okla.) Aug. 24.—
Carter, a negro identified man who had attacked Mrs.
Nile Spraggins and set fire to her near here, last night, was burned to death by a mob in the main street here today. Three persons witnessed the burning.
Under Sheriff Farris and Deputy Hays made desperate efforts to prevent the burning of the negro,
the mob locked the officers in the courthouse.

While men and women looked on, a few men soaked a brush with coal oil and then poured oil on Carter, who was thrown upon brush. A torch was touched to the brush and flames shot up, hiding the negro from view. He was burned to a crisp.

The negro had been caught by other blacks today near the Okla.
Central Railway Station as he was preparing to leave Parcel.

CAPTURED BY NEGRO.
Houghley Henry, a negro, and the Courthouse found him hid-der a box car. Assisted by two negroes, who had armed themselves, they searched the box car and found the negro, who was then taken to the main street and burned.

Under Sheriff Farris and Hays were among the first to the spot where the mob had gathered and made a strenuous effort to stop the lynching, assuming the loss of the negro that there would be no
of the negro's escape.

ILLINOIS MAN FAVORED BY THE G. A. R. VETERANS.

Virtually Assured That Judge Harvey M. Trimble Will be Elected Commander at the Rochester Encampment.
Gilman Hopeful of the Enactment by the Next Congress of an Increased Pension Bill.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
ROCHESTER (N. Y.) Aug. 24.—
An official report of the National Encampment of the G.
A. R. it is virtually assured that Judge Harvey M. Trimble of Illinois, will be elected Commander-in-Chief. It was expected that his opponent, Gen. John McClure, editor of the National Tribune, would withdraw tonight, but he has not done so. He may withdraw before the vote is taken tomorrow.

The city in which the encampment will be held next year will not be chosen until tomorrow, but only Los Angeles is mentioned.

The report of a committee exposed Gen. McClure of a charge that he had used in a book certain articles from a copyrighted book that had been issued by the late Lieut.-Col.
William H. H. Davis of Union, Or.

Mrs. Cora M. Davis of Union, Or.,
was elected president of the National Women's Relief Corps tonight. Other officers will be elected tomorrow.

The Sons of Veterans voted tonight to withdraw the support they have given the memorial university at Mason City, Iowa.

The sons of veterans auxiliary elected their officers today:
President—Mrs. Flora Staples
Whitney, Wakefield, Mass.; vice-president, Mrs. Addie M. Hoskins, Long Beach, Cal.

In his annual address Commander-in-Chief Gilman spoke hopefully of securing an increased pension bill at the coming session of Congress. He urged that the encampment assume the responsibility of incorporating, referring to the "vanishing army," he said that while there were 19,491 deaths among the veterans during the last year, the G. A. R. would exist as an organization for twenty-five years more. Upon the auxiliary bodies of the G. A. R. Commander Gilman laid the responsibility of perpetuating
Memorial Day, when the organization has ceased to exist and urged that flag day and mother's day be generally observed.

Gen. Alvah C. Edmonds of Portland, Or., a delegate to the grand encampment, who was stricken with gastritis during yesterday's parade, died in the General Hospital early this morning. The body will be shipped to Portland, Or.

JUST MARRIED, COURTS DEATH.

Wed in Los Angeles, Drinks Acid in San Francisco.

Husband Amazed by His Bride's Strange Act.

Elopement With a Sequel Three Weeks Later.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Gustave Rapp, who, as Miss Mary King, surprised her friends three weeks ago by eloping to Los Angeles, where she was married to the assistant foreman of the San Francisco fire department, is lying today in a dangerous condition at the St. Luke's Hospital. She attempted to commit suicide yesterday by swallowing carbolic acid.

After the wedding the bride and groom commissioned a friend to break the news of the marriage to the mother of the bride, who was then visiting in this city from her home in Seattle.

Gustave Rapp is unable to account for his wife's act. According to him there was no quarrel, nor did she seem to be worried or despondent. The first intimation he had of any intention on her part to commit suicide was when he was hurriedly summoned last evening by the news that she had swallowed carbolic acid and was in a serious condition.

"I know absolutely nothing about it," he said this morning. "I am absolutely at a loss to account for my wife doing anything like that. She did not look very well yesterday morning and I asked her if she was feeling ill, but she said she was all right. Of course, she might have said that, thinking that I might worry about it."

At the hospital it is said that Mrs. Rapp will probably recover.

STATUS OF WILDE CASE.

San Diego, Now in Portland, Or., Arraigned Upon New Charge, Embodiment Alleged.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
PORTLAND (Or.), Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Lewis J. Wilde was arraigned before Circuit Judge Kavanaugh this forenoon and listened to the reading of the new indictment returned by the grand jury yesterday charging him with being concerned with W. Cooper Morris in the $50,000 embezzlement from the Oregon Trust and Savings Bank on May 7, 1907.

Wilde appeared with his attorney and his brother-in-law, William Miller, Deputy District Attorney Collier read the indictment and Attorney Dan Malarkey requested the court to allow additional time to plead or move against the indictment. Judge Kavanaugh ordered the defendant to appear tomorrow afternoon, when his attorney will try to have him set free on demurrer.

The former indictment would undoubtedly have stood the test of law, said Special Prosecutor Clark, who is in charge of the prosecution. "It alleged that Wilde was an officer of the bank, which was not a fact, but it also alleged that he assisted and conspired with Morris in the embezzlement of the funds of the bank. This is the gist of the charge, and the other would have been regarded as surplusage. However, we thought it best to have a new indictment."

PASS IT BACK TO ASSESSOR.

State Board of Equalization Points Out That the Fault of Omission Lies With County Official.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The report that the State Board of Equalization omitted or neglected to include the San Bernardino and Redlands Railroad in the assessment list was explained today by State Comptroller A. B. Nye, and Secretary T. M. Eby, of the State Board. The road was listed among all others of the Southern Pacific for the State taxes, but being an intra-county road it should have been assessed by the County Assessor for the ad valorem tax, or Panama Pacific exposition tax.

The law requires that the exposition tax shall be levied the same as the taxes in 1910. In 1910 the State Board of Equalization did not tax the San Bernardino and Redlands Railroad, because it is an intra-county road. If the road was omitted, the omission is due to the San Bernardino County Assessor, not the State Board of Equalization.

NYE ANSWERS WHEELER.

According to His Table of Logarithms the New Tax System Will Give University More Money.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] State Comptroller A. B. Nye takes exception to the statements made by President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University of California a few days ago that the university is bankrupt as a result of the working of the new tax system. That faculty vacancies cannot be filled, nor needed improvements made and that private financial aid is required.

Nye says Wheeler has apparently confused two distinct constitutional amendments in making his attack on the new tax system; that the new mortgage law means a loss of not more than $25,000 a year to the University and not $40,000 as President Wheeler quoted; that under the new system of taxation the University is receiving 7 per cent. more than it did last year and that this increase compounded will be greater every year so that in four years the university will receive from the State $931,791.15, an increase of over $226,000 or 31 per cent. more than last year.

In conclusion Nye shows by comparison with other universities that California supports its university as well as any State and far better than most, and when it comes to endowment funds California, he says, is far the richest of the State universities.

WIDOW DOWIE ISSUES A CALL.

She Wants to Establish a Zion City Like the One Her Husband Had in Illinois.

WAUKEGAN (Ill.), Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] According to dispatches from Whitehall, Mich., Mrs. Dowie, the widow of John Alexander Dowie, founder of Zion City, will, on Sunday next take the first step toward re-establishing the cult which Dowie launched years ago in Chicago and later took to Zion City after he had founded the town. She has issued a call to a meeting at Ben MacDonell's place, which Dowie established as his summer home and which has been her home since she lost all interests in Zion City. The plan is to ask all the original loyal followers of Dowie to join in a movement to build up a colony in Michigan similar to the one Dowie hoped to maintain in Zion, carrying out his teachings, a course which none but the followers of Elder A. Taylor, in Zion, are now doing.

Taylor and his followers will be asked to move to Michigan in order to give the movement a substantial start. Mrs. Dowie has been almost penniless and hopes with the movement to be able to conduct a strenuous campaign in Chicago, which will rally loyalty to the Dowie standard and ultimately attain the objects which her husband sought.

CEMENT STEAMER IN DISTRESS.
Springs Alike in a Gale and Is Saved From Turning to Stone by the Redondo.
MARSHFIELD (Or.), Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Plowing through heavy seas, kicked up by a stiff gale, the steamer Saginaw, deep laden with cement, sprang a leak, and was picked up this afternoon in a sinking condition by the steamer Redondo, which left this port at noon, according to a wireless message received here from the Redondo to-night.

The message states that the Redondo has the Saginaw in tow, but has not yet attempted to cross in on account of the fog. The crew of twenty-six men is aboard and the Saginaw is in a bad condition. It is feared she cannot last till morning if it is not possible to bring the disabled vessel inside. The life-saving crew is at hand to render assistance. It is thought it will be possible for the tug to bring the Saginaw in unless the fog becomes more dense.

Mrs. Wagner dying later in a hospital. In changing seats in a boat with her husband at the mouth of the estuary, Mrs. Wagner fell overboard. Wagner dived after her. A strong tide was running and it took him a half hour to get her to shore. Mrs. Wagner was unable to survive the shock and exposure.

STAY IN VANCOUVER.
Headquarters of Department of Columbia Will Not be Moved to Seattle or Portland.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
PORTLAND (Or.), Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dispatches from Washington today announce that the application of Brig.-Gen. Marion F. Maus, commanding the department of Columbia, to change the headquarters of that department from Vancouver, Wash., to Portland, or Seattle, has been disapproved by the retention of the headquarters at Vancouver. This is as satisfactory to Portland as if they had been removed here, as if Portland business men have exerted themselves in but one direction affecting the department headquarters. If a change were to be made from Vancouver, to a larger city, Portland would be the change to be made in this application. Vancouver is to all intents and purposes, a portion of Portland in any trade consideration and would be aided with as much vigor to keep department headquarters at this city would put into any work protecting its own interests.

It has been known here that the Seattle people have been struggling for some time to get that city made headquarters for the department, using Alaska's geographical situation in the argument.

FAUNE GROWER ARRESTED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SAN JOSE, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Declaring that he is stealing from them daily a part of the crop of prunes on the Hemphill place on the San Jose-Santa Cruz road and that he has already taken away 12,000 pounds of fruit, Rosenberg Brothers, packers, today filed a suit against E. Dana W. A. Brownlee was appointed receiver for the rest of the crop and ordered to seize it, and hold it until the determination of the action. The suit is the outgrowth of the present unusual price of prunes. The farmers who did not sell early are getting 5 1/2 cent basis, which means big money. Dana, it is claimed, sold to Rosenberg Brothers for 4 cents, and is now alleged in the suit to be trying to dodge his bargain by splitting away the fruit to be sold at the present price. They charge in their suit that they believe Dana is insolvent, and that they would have to file a new suit each day, unless a receiver were named.

Simple Issues in the Earl Telegraph Tapping.

Is Demurrer Argued, to Be Decided Monday.

Arguments on the demurrer to the indictment in the E. T. Earl telegraph tapping case up for hearing before Judge Bordwell were concluded yesterday afternoon. The court took the matter under consideration, and announced that on Monday morning he will render a decision.

The arguments of both the prosecution and defense appeared to hinge on the question as to whether Section 519 of the Penal Code, upon which the indictment against the Earl is based, should be construed by the court in a broad or specific sense—whether the mention of the word "telegraphic" in the code should be understood in its generic state or only as referring to telegraph system conducted by wire and connecting electrical instruments.

The prosecution as represented by Deputy District Attorney Horton A. Ketchum contended that the word "telegraphic" as employed in the code includes not only the wire method of communication, but wire as well. The fact that the code refers to the term "wire," which is significant and convincing proof of this. They further argued that the wireless method of communication is as much a telegraphic system as the wire method, and that the code should be construed to include both.

The defense attorneys devoted the first afternoon to efforts to explain away the points driven home by Deputy District Attorney Horton A. Ketchum. They attacked Horton's contention that wireless is as essential to present-day modes of communication as the wire method, and urged back to the world-old theory that the laws above to the heavens and the laws below to the earth's surface point of a man's property belong to him and him alone. They argued that inasmuch as a property owner has the right to remove a wire that crosses his land he also has a similar right to catch and extort the electro-pulsations of the wireless code that are attracted by magnetic instruments upon his property.

TECHNICAL ARGUMENTS.

Arguments of the most technical nature were presented by the opposing attorneys. T. E. Gibbon, associate counsel for Earl, took Meteoric theory rights into the domain of the "Chaucerian" and Shakespearean periods. He sought to show the gradual transition of term interpretations from ancient times down to the present. He argued that certain terms employed by the framers of various English laws which the prosecution had quoted as freely from previous law have a different significance and interpretation in the present epoch. Several instances of such word transitions he cited. One of the most striking was given the title "light-lit" word "disclose" by the attorneys for both the defense and the prosecution. Deputy District Attorney Horton devoted nearly an hour to enunciating his interpretation of it as contained in Penal Code, section 519. Deputy District Attorney Ketchum followed in for fully half that period, while Attorney Messervy, Gibbon and Anderson of the defense also tore it apart to suit their own theories or theories of the case.

The term "disclose" occupies an important part in the proceeding because upon that term principally hinges the legal guilt or innocence of Earl. In the indictment handed down against the publisher, he is specifically charged with disclosing a telegraphic message. Attorney Messervy and Anderson contended that disclosure of the wireless message charged to Earl was impossible because it was in the disclosed state when it came to him, and for the major reason that inasmuch as there is no secret to a wireless message, it cannot be disclosed.

Deputy District Attorney Horton took serious and well-grounded exceptions to this. He argued that every time a message of telegraphic or telephonic nature is disclosed a violation of section 519 of the Penal Code is committed. He said that there is considerable secrecy to a wireless message—that while operations, professional and amateur, might have cognizance of such messages but only by the use of a radio set as represented by the leaders of Earl's Tribune and Examiner would have known nothing of such messages until they read it. His position, Horton further argued that each and every time a message is disclosed to the public or to some private individual a violation of section 519 is committed.

Horton introduced evidence in the form of letters from two of the great legal minds and authorities on wireless telegraphy in the country, setting forth that the word "telegraphic" is contained in the code fully covers the wireless message exploitation by Earl. The authorities, S. Oliver Jones of Memphis and William Mack of New York, editor of the Cyclopedia, a legal publication, and one of the most prominent authorities on law and legal procedure in the country, both interpret the word "telegraphic" as contained in section 519 in its generic sense. They hold that it covers the exploitation of messages received over a wire as well as those received through other pulsations.

GREAT PRINCIPLE INVOLVED.

In discussing the general qualifications of section 519, Horton was enthusiastic in his declaration that it was framed with a broad intent only. He stated that a great principle is involved in the present case, and that the eyes of the commercial world are watching the court's decision on the demurrer to the indictment. He emphasized the fact that it makes little difference as to who the defendant is, the action is whether he is capable of financing the services of four attorneys or none at all. The holy law of the land has been violated by this defendant, and speedy justice should be meted out to him.

In presenting the argument for the defense, Attorney Messervy, Anderson and Gibbon all had special stress on the statement that the indictment returned by the grand jury is faulty and vague in every sense. Attorney Anderson accused the District Attorney's office and the grand jury of having no other specific purpose in mind than the humiliation of Earl in returning the indictment against him.

To this Horton took exceptions. He was on his feet in an instant demanding the retraction of the statement. Judge Bordwell stated that Anderson must confine his efforts to the argument, and the issues, Anderson was followed by Messervy, who closed the argument for the defense.

WILEY MEN WIN.

By Rushing Reinforcements to the Convention in Minneapolis They Elect the President.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

DULUTH (Minn.) Aug. 24.—Arrival of reinforcements in the last hour gave the so-called Wiley delegation in the annual convention of the Association of State and National Pure Food departments a victory today. Lucius P. Brown of Nashville was elected president and H. E. Barnard of Indianapolis vice-president, over candidates of the delegations that have taken the side of Secretary Wilson in the Agricultural Department clash. The rest of the ticket was elected as follows:

Second vice-president, C. H. Billings, Alabama (Wilson). Third vice-president, Joel G. Winkler, Minnesota (neutral). Secretary, W. W. Allen, North Carolina (Wiley).

Treasurer, James Faust, Pennsylvania (unanimous). Executive Committee, Edwin de Barr, Oklahoma (Wilson); S. J. Crumrine, Kansas (Wiley); Charles D. Woods, Maine (Wiley). Charles D. Woods will entertain the convention in 1912.

A long telegram expressing confidence in Dr. H. W. Wiley and promising support of his official acts which was to have been sent to Washington last night, was held up for further signatures and sent to President Taft today by the Wiley delegates.

A report of the committee revising the constitution was submitted today. The objections include the disfranchising of the assistants, chemists and others lower down in the employ of the various State departments, and the changing of the right to vote to the executives from the various State departments and the Department of Agriculture. The subcommittee and the assistants are left out of the members of the national association, but are deprived of their right to vote or to hold office.

NEW YORK POLICE FIND PROOF OF LONDON WEDDING.

Famous Landscape Painter May Face Charge of Bigamy for Having Married Miss Katherine Dreier While Still Having Undivorced Wife and Children in London.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The District Attorney's office in Brooklyn, investigating the alleged bigamous marriage on August 2, last, of Edward Trumbull-Smith, the artist, to the wealthy Miss Katherine S. Dreier of No. 6 Montague Terrace, has learned that the young man, on November 30, 1908, in St. Michael's and All Angels Church, Bedford Park, London, was married to Miss Sarah Louise Jane Pearce and that the couple have two children. They afterward lived at Shepherd's Bush and were known as Mr. and Mrs. Edward Trumbull.

This was learned today after Assistant District Attorney Le Roy Ross, who is in charge of the investigation, had visited Deputy Police Commissioner Walsh at Brooklyn headquarters. After a long conference Ross reluctantly admitted that the object of their meeting was the Trumbull-Dreier marriage.

"Trumbull's first wife is a young woman of good family," said Ross. "We know exactly where she is and I expect to be in communication with her in a day or two. We shall learn the whole truth from her and if a crime has been committed you will be sure this office will set a prosecution on foot."

"Their wedding was a church affair and they lived together until a year ago. The children are with the mother, I understand."

Ross would not tell where the mother and children are living at present. When pressed, however, he would not deny that they are in London.

HUSBAND, WIFE, SON MURDERED.

Heads Cloven and Bodies Are Then Set on Fire.

Offspring of the Family Is Charged With Crime.

Division of Money Said to Have Been Motive.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

EVANSVILLE (Ind.) Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Richard Lee, aged 32 years, his wife, age 30, and his son, Clarence, age 17, living at Rockwell street, east of here, were brutally murdered as they slept in their home early this morning. Their heads were split open with an axe, or hatchet. After the crime was committed the murderer poured oil over the beds and set fire to the victims. When the bodies were found they were badly charred.

SON ARRESTED.

William Lee, oldest son of the family, is under arrest charged with the crime. Since he was taken into custody this morning by Sheriff Luther Seales he has refused to discuss the case other than to say he is innocent.

It developed today in the investigation being made by Coroner Farley and the police that William Lee had threatened the lives of the family on more than one occasion.

"I'll kill every last one of them in case I don't get enough money to marry on," is the statement William Lee is said to have made in the presence of Mrs. Manuel Williams.

ENGAGED TO MARRY.

Tonight William Lee was to have been married to Miss Mary Taylor, the daughter of John Taylor, a well-to-do farmer near Newburg. The wedding had been after his father for several days for money. He had not worked for several years, was regarded as a young man of sporty disposition and had lived off his father for a long time. The father, anxious to make his son some kind of a wedding present, yesterday sold a house and lot in Newburg for $1500. The son, William, was sent to Newburg and was paid this money and returned to Evansville late last night. It is said the father and son quarreled over the division of the money.

Before William Lee was taken to jail he backed up his claim that he would be able to prove his innocence at the preliminary trial.

THREATS OF VIOLENCE.

Because of threats of violence against him Lee may be taken to the jail at Evansville. Keeping in mind the fact that he had been picked up in the house after firemen had put out the flames. Traces of kerosene were found on the floor of the room. In a table drawer were insurance policies for $1000 on the lives of the father and the son, and a check for $1000, the proceeds of the sale of the property, had disappeared. A fourth share of the money from the sale had been given to William by his father.

Witnesses at the inquest told the Coroner that Lee had quarreled with his father because the latter had not given him as much money as he thought he should have in view of his approaching marriage.

Asked in his cell how it happened he was fully satisfied that he was taken from the house to give the alarm of fire, Lee answered:

"Oh, the first thing I did was to put on my clothes and get out of the house. Last night I visited my sweetheart at Newburg and came home late. I went to sleep and knew nothing till I awoke and found my room filled with smoke."

SOLUTION OF CRIME FOUND.

Suspect, Under Arrest, Drug Weakness, Confesses to Colorado Murderer Committed in July.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

TRINIDAD (Col.) Aug. 24.—In the confession of Lee Armstrong, who claims to be the son of former County Judge A. Armstrong of Lawton, Okla., local authorities believe they have the solution of the murder of W. C. Meeker, a Trinidad merchant, on the night of July 29, last. Two weeks ago Armstrong was arrested for another offense.

Deprived of the drug to which he had been addicted Armstrong weakened and admitted to the police that he fired the shot that ended Meeker's life, when the latter caught him and Charles Murphy robbing the victim's place of the scene of the crime.

After the shooting the two separated, Armstrong catching a train for Dalhart, Tex. Later he was seized with an irresistible desire to return to his home in Trinidad, and a reward of $725 was offered for the arrest and conviction of the murderer.

"To hell, I say farewell and may your life be more pleasant than mine has or will be."

This was the note found at the bedside of Miss Pauline Edwards, a beautiful girl, 25 years of age, a nurse at the North Louisiana Sanitarium, who committed suicide by taking poison. Dr. Hunter, the physician who addressed, is a friend of the family and was the means of her getting employment here. It is stated that the police have received a letter from the young girl had been persecuted in Memphis by parties and that the persecution, following her to Little Rock, where she was in a sanitarium as a nurse, training, she feared it was being used against her.

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Just how unessential clothes are, even on a honeymoon trip, was discovered by Mr. and Mrs. John O. Reid of Sanford, Ky., a newly-married couple at Union Station here yesterday, when they found that every shred of apparel belonging to them, except what they had on, was stolen. After an hour's fruitless search they decided not to let the lack of clothes interfere with their trip and boarded a train for Detroit.

They had deposited a suitcase and traveling bag beside a bench in the waiting-room and strolled out in front of the depot. When they returned the grips were gone.

When his pretty bride began weeping, Reid said: "Do not cry now. We are not going to miss this trip. It's two minutes until our train leaves and we are going on just the same. We will get along somehow without so many clothes."

INSURANCE LEGISLATION.

Association of Commissioners Will Have Two Bills Presented to Regulate Dating and Underwriting.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 24.—Further investigation of industrial, health and accident insurance companies by a special committee of the Executive Committee of the National Insurance Commissioners' Association is provided for in action taken in executive session of the commissioners' convention today when the report presented yesterday was adopted. A resolution was adopted demanding that industrial, health and accident departments of certain companies correct wrongs and that other requirements embodied in the report be lived up to.

The Executive Committee is authorized, pending the next session of the convention, to continue investigations and to make similar requirements when conditions warrant. The report of the committee on Authorized Insurance, which advised the complete suppression of all such business, was adopted.

The Committee on Laws and Legislation during the next year will prepare two bills. The first will be to prohibit fire insurance companies from issuing policies under any other name than their own and regularly through underwriters' agencies. The second will concern the dating of life insurance policies.

The board will require the insertion in the loan and interest clause of life insurance policies of a clause providing sixty or ninety days' grace in payment and thus prevent what are in effect runs on insurance companies in panic times.

Spokane, Wash., probably will get the next convention.

PARIS, Aug. 24.—M. Drieux, the examining magistrate who is conducting the inquiry into the disappearance of Leonardo da Vinci's painting, "Mona Lisa," today gained a clue.

A Parisian official has reported that last Monday morning he saw a tall stout man, apparently greatly agitated, carrying a large panel covered with a horse blanket. The man jumped on the 7:47 Express for Bordeaux as it was pulling out of the quai d'Orsay station. The man carried a few minutes' walk from the Louvre, the time corresponds with the hour the picture is believed to have disappeared. The magistrate sent a message to the Bordeaux police, describing the man.

BRUSSELS, Aug. 24.—A report is current here that the painter, "Mona Lisa," passed through Belgium yesterday in a freight train so well concealed as to escape the vigilance of the police on the frontier. The picture is said to have been taken by way of Namur and Liege in the direction of Holland.

Attorney Makes Statement in Behalf of Chinese Masonic Body Relative to Opium Pipes.

The mystery surrounding the ownership of an opium outfit captured in the building occupied by the Bing Kong Tong a few days ago was dispelled yesterday when T. E. MacGowan, an attorney, sent word to Inspector Boden that the articles belonged to an opium smoker who had no connection with the society and whose presence in the building was unknown to the legitimate occupants.

Many of the members of the tong are opposed to the use of opium since the smoking of the drug was forbidden by the police, the attorney says, and efforts have been made to exterminate the habit. That the stuff was found while the lodge was in session, led to an investigation on the part of the Chinese Masonic officials with the result that the ownership was fixed on a land and not on the order as a whole.

Arrangements are being made to burn all of the paraphernalia captured in the recent raids as required by law, despite the fact that large sums have been offered by individual owners for the return of their pipes which in many cases have been handed down as family heirlooms.

Long Continued Agitation Over Water Will Result in a Dead End in the Near Future.

ALHAMBRA, Aug. 24.—There is every prospect that the long-continued and much discussed question of the ownership by this city of its water supply will result in the calling of an election for the purpose of voting bonds to a sufficient amount to install a distributing system covering the entire city and securing water rights that will supply an abundance of water for a city of 50,000 people.

A joint committee, consisting of the Board of City Trustees and five from the Alhambra Board of Trade, has been in charge and will make a preliminary report to the Board of City Trustees early in September.

This joint committee, once known as the Owens River Committee, and consisting of W. M. Northrup, R. Wallace, J. B. Teagarden, George Cameron and Henry S. Patten, will confer with the authorities in Los Angeles concerning the matter of securing a supply from that source. Another committee, consisting of R. R. Behrman, Robert Jordan, J. E. Sutton, Henry R. Patten and A. C. Weeks, will endeavor if possible to secure a selling proposition from the San Gabriel Valley Water Company. It is this company which is at present furnishing the greater part of Alhambra with its water supply.

The water furnished by this company is pure and abundant, but the pressure for fire fighting purposes is woefully inadequate.

A third committee, consisting of Frank L. Hilt, A. C. Weeks, W. Northrup, George Cameron and Robert Jordan, will investigate the possibility of securing water supply other than the Owens River and the present system.

Jap. Himself Subject to Exclusion, Acts as Guide to Contraband, and Both May Be Deported.
For the first time in the history of the local immigration office, a Japanese has been caught acting as a guide for Chinese laborers making their way from Mexico into United States territory.

Information was received by Capt. Connell, immigration inspector, yesterday that a Japanese had been arrested in San Luis Obispo, having in his care a Chinese laborer, that both had been charged with a violation of the Chinese exclusion act, and will be taken to the United States Commissioner's office this morning.

Word was also received yesterday by Capt. Connell that five more Chinese laborers had been picked up at Imperial Junction by Inspector Connell. They were brought to Los Angeles last night, and will be taken to the United States Commissioner's office this morning.

FLOWER BED PLEA LOSES.
State Supreme Court Sustains Superior Court in Decision Affecting Hotel in Santa Monica.
The State Supreme Court has affirmed the decision of the Superior Court of Los Angeles county in favor of the defendant, in the action brought by John H. Berryman against the Hotel Savoy Company. The action was brought to restrain the defendant corporation from violating a certain building restriction on Pier avenue, Santa Monica.

It is alleged that by the terms of the purchase of Berryman of a lot in the Bay View tract and adjoining the hotel, it was understood space was to be left between the buildings for flower bed purposes, seven feet from the front line and eight feet from the northeast side line. The Savoy Hotel Company was charged with having built flush up to the lot line without making provision for the flowers, and the lower court decided that Berryman was at fault in his contention. This view has been affirmed by the highest court.

LORD LIGHTS LURE.
Six-Year-Old Girl Steals Away from Home in the Night to Visit Ancestor Place and Gets Lost.
So strongly did the lurid lights of Luna Park appeal to Miss Elsie Becker, aged 6, Wednesday night that after she was tucked in bed by her mother, Mrs. David Becker, Twelfth and San-te streets, she quietly redressed herself and slipped out of a window to return to the park.

The dark streets, however, did not appear familiar to her as they did in day time and she lost her way. The more she tried to find the park the further she got away from it. About 12:30 o'clock she was found on Main street near Tenth crying softly. Two women talked to her kindly and asked her name, but she had forgotten it.

Patrolman Ackley took her to the Central Police Station and half sleepily she asked where the lions were when she saw the iron bars of the jail.

"Just close your eyes, little honey and you will see lions and tigers and long necked giraffes and everything like that," Ackley said softly, and she followed his advice.

And about 3 o'clock yesterday morning the child's father found her at the station and took her home. She didn't awaken when he spoke to her, so he carried her home in his arms.

GIRL BELIEVED INSANE.
Kate Sherbit, 17 years old, one of the girls who participated in the recent strike at the State reform school, at Whittier, was taken to the County Hospital yesterday in the belief that she is insane. Dr. Caldwell notified the sheriff's office that the girl was acting strangely and apparently was mentally unbalanced. She was brought here by Deputy Sheriff Woods, who had the assistance of Matron Ticker in taking her to the hospital.

Duffin was changing his gun from a belt holster to a shoulder holster, because of it sticking, he took a jam it down, when the trigger was caught and discharged the gun, shooting off one of his fingers. He came at once to Los Angeles and a member was properly amputated from external appearances.

Instead of heading it, it came in and the poison entered the blood, so that this was cut off. From the pieces the surgeons at the Clara and Hospital have since cut them out, until there remained the bone below the shoulder. This time he has promised Duffin that he will be no further trouble.

He is usually called "Red" because of the style of the Arizona red shirt. He was formerly acknowledged as the best gun fighter and held a name for trying to prove himself a better fighter than any other. He has great gun fighting talent in play, but his misfortune, he carries the name of "Red" and "Red" is a self jauntily and sees only the right side of the other side of the

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

DRIVERS ARE ARRESTED.

Paradise Traffic Ordinance Is Working Two Ways.

Will Ask Legal Opinion on Pepper Tree Boulevard.

Controversy Over Oil Quality Is Still Raging.

(Office of the Times, 23 E. Fair Oaks Ave.)

PASADENA, Aug. 23.—Pasadena business firms who use drays are between Scylla and Charibdis. If their wagons are seen by a policeman on Marengo avenue the drivers are arrested; and if, on the other hand, they take such thoroughfares as will allow them to reach certain parts of the city without traversing Marengo avenue, they are in danger of prosecution by the Humane Society for cruelty to animals.

Undecided as to which way to steer they have taken refuge in litigation and will do all in their power to have the handsome pepper-tree-lined avenue again declared a common street instead of remaining a boulevard.

Four more drivers were arrested yesterday for disobeying the traffic ordinance. The companies which have now infringed on the boulevard rules are the Orth Van and Storage Company, the C. A. Baldwin Construction Company, the Her Express Feed Company, the Her Express Company, the National Lumber Company, the Electric Express Company and the Montgomery Contracting Company.

Grant Orth and C. A. Baldwin have already taken legal steps. The case is set for a hearing before Police Judge Mitchell September 22.

"We will take it to the Supreme Court, if necessary," said Orth last night. "We want to know how it is the City Council can, at the request of a few property owners, take a street which has been used to haul over for sixteen years and turn it into a boulevard. There are steep hills on the Pepper Tree streets, so that if we haul over the horses fall upon their knees."

SPARKS FLY. The cessation of work on North Raymond avenue by order of City Engineer Van Ornum because of a dispute between Contractor Charles A. Baldwin and the city has resulted in a clash between the two men.

Yesterday Baldwin had his attorney, Harry Tichnor, look up the law of eligibility under which Van Ornum holds office and intimated he might go after the City Engineer's scalp.

When questioned last night he said he had only asked Tichnor for legal advice and that he had no idea of pressing the matter. The question raised by Baldwin is that Van Ornum had not met the requirements of the city ordinance as an engineer when he assumed office.

"Mr. Baldwin's talk is not worrying me any," said City Engineer Van Ornum. "The order that work be suspended until the proper grade of oil is obtained is being enforced."

Baldwin says the difficulty to the warm weather and says he had thought of getting his men out at night and putting on the oil while the air was cool and it would not sink too deep, but that he changed his mind because he found it was physically impossible.

Van Ornum declares Baldwin has no reason to complain as there is only one source of oil in the city and other contractors will be inconvenienced to even a greater extent.

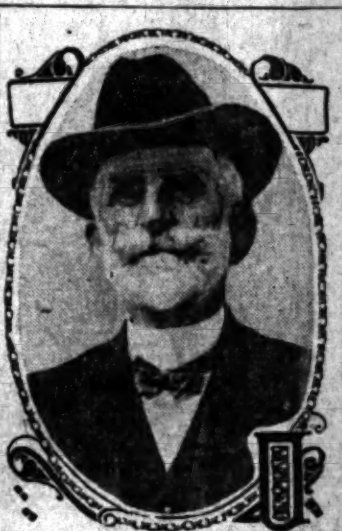

Claiming that under the guise of deer hunting extreme cruelty has been practiced in the mountains near the city, the board of directors of the Pasadena Humane Society is considering what steps it is possible to take toward securing relief for the animals.

"We find," said Secretary Henry Waterman of the society last night, "that among the hunters are many boys who are inexperienced with a gun. They often only succeed in killing the deer after shooting them repeatedly after they are wounded."

The directors of the Humane Society have discussed the matter, but there seems to be no way of compelling anything other than increasing the activity of the organization in the work which is done among the children.

The officers of the El Camino Club look forward to the elimination of hunting, still by teaching the children the extreme cruelty that often results from this sport, their desire for protection as they grow older, may be overcome.

The Humane Society will probably take up the matter with the school department toward the end that children of the city be particularly impressed with the nature of the deer.

Col. Jason J. Shepard, elected Commander of the Southern California Veterans' Association of Huntington Beach.

and taught that hunting is only justifiable when carried on for the purpose of procuring food.

President R. D. Davis of the Pasadena Board of Trade and President John Willis Bae of Occidental College will make every effort to induce President Taft to come to Pasadena when he visits Los Angeles October 4.

The former is now awaiting a reply from a letter sent to Washington by the Board of Trade.

The arrangements which Davis and Bae are endeavoring to perfect are that President Taft shall make the trip to Pasadena in the afternoon and speak at the library. If he accedes to the request, he will be urged to stop for a few minutes at Occidental College on his way back to Los Angeles.

City Attorney Carr will be one of the speakers at the 1911 meeting of the League of California Municipalities which is to be held in Santa Barbara. He has been asked to deal with the subject of litigation of cities of the State and Court Decisions affecting Municipalities. It is probable that other city officials of Pasadena will be invited to take part in the program.

The league represents thirty different California cities. The exact dates of the meeting have not been announced, but it will probably convene October 22. The committee of principal subjects of discussion and the Pasadena delegation will take a prominent part in the proceedings.

Mayor Tamm and several of the Councilmen went to Los Angeles yesterday to see the new bridge under construction at the proposed new Colorado street bridge, across the Arroyo Seco.

A large crowd last night witnessed the exhibition at the El Camino Club. Men and women, as well as children, participated in the program. The entertainment was given on the tennis court under a row of arc lights.

CLAREMONT. Aug. 24.—Work was begun here today on the construction of a large new packing house south of the Santa Fe station. The new association is known as the El Camino Citrus Association, and the acreage included on Cucamonga avenue. The house expects to send out about 300 cars and hopes to get special prices for its brand of oranges.

The Claretown Citrus Association and College Heights Association shipped 1100 cars this season and their capacity has been taxed to the uttermost to handle the fruit.

The officers of the El Camino association are: William S. Jones, president; J. J. Swigart, vice-president; and J. W. Cooper, secretary.

WOMAN'S WIGIL LOCATES BODY.

BOAT WRECKED IN SURF TRYING TO SECURE IT.

While Summer Cottagers Are Bathing in the Ocean the House in Which They Have Been Making Their Temporary Abode Burns and Destroys Their Clothes and Money.

LONG BEACH, Aug. 24.—Searching the sea with a field glass as she has been doing daily since the tragedy Mrs. William Hanrahan, wife of the man saved from the surf Sunday, when two companions were drowned at Seaside Park, saw a body floating this morning off shore opposite Ventura avenue and one block from where the drowning occurred.

She notified the police, but in an effort to reach the body a boat was wrecked in the surf and the occupants narrowly escaped with their lives. Then a launch was secured from the wharf but while it was making the trip the body washed ashore, where it was identified as that of Ed McMullen. A foreman at work on the west beach walk, said that when first seen the body was floating in the surf, but that before the launch was half way one of the bodies sank.

All day men have been dragging for the body but without success. The float which came ashore was only the body of the woman, which will be shipped tomorrow to his home near Tacoma. McMullen was 27 years of age and had only recently returned from Alaska.

BATHING CLOTHES BURN. An overheated stove in which two women were burning waste paper this morning set fire to the paper covered walls of a California cottage at No. 1037 East First street and so rapidly did the flames spread that the women barely escaped with their lives. The building and contents were totally destroyed, the only thing saved being a small chest containing hats of the women. The house was occupied by Walter Sullivan and wife, who had as guests, Sullivan's brother-in-law, W. J. Hewins, of San Bernardino, and his sister, Miss Josephine and Agnes. At the time of the fire Hewins and Miss Josephine were at the beach clad in their bathing suits. The fire began in a parlor where a stove had been burning, and the flames spread to the kitchen and then to the bedrooms. The house belonged to Police Commissioner A. C. Grube and was partially insured.

Little Bobbie McGee, aged 2, who is here with his mother from Imperial, wandered too near the edge of the burning building and was captured where they are staying this morning and fell fifteen feet, landing on a pile of boards, breaking his nose and severely injuring his right leg and hip.

LAUNCH TAKES DOLPHIN. A white-bellied dolphin, six feet long and weighing 115 pounds nabbed one of the trolling lines of the launch Flyer today, while twenty miles off the coast. The dolphin was captured after an hour's fierce battle. Owing to the size of the fish it was necessary to shoot it. Its back was broken at the first shot and then it was soon dispatched. The specimen will be mounted and placed on exhibition on the outer wharf.

Clark Howe, living at No. 744 Walnut avenue, climbed to the roof of his house this morning to paint it and, losing his balance, fell twenty feet to the ground. He sustained a fracture of the collar bone and has two ribs broken.

Secretary Camp of the Chamber of Commerce was in consultation this afternoon with Mayor Knight when he was manager of an aviator who wished to fly from Long Beach to Catalina. Knight declined to give him a license and the aviator's plans are completed. A guarantee is asked which will be considered by the Chamber of Commerce.

Before the police arrived a wild crowd had gathered behind the lad and taken the weapon away from him. The boy was turned over to his parents and today takes his case from the court.

John A. Larsen, aged 27, who came here from Minneapolis, died this morning at his home on East Second street. He was a native of Minnesota.

MORE THAN A THOUSAND HAVE BEEN ENTERTAINED.

A VALON, Aug. 24.—Last but not least the eighteenth contingent of the Times Camp boys arrived on the steamer Catalina today, brimming full of expectations and carrying their full complement of devilry. "A good many have been unable to make the trip this year," said Horace Olfette, manager of the camp, "but in all probability the accommodations will be doubled for next summer's outing."

The camp stakes will be pulled Monday, August 28. Somehow two boys managed to squeeze in and consequently today's crowd is the largest ever had in the camp. "Immediately after dinner, Mullen-Bleett's bathing suits were very much in evidence. Over 1000 newswomen have enjoyed the Times hospitality at the Catalina camp."

Since June 24, and for every four days, battalion after battalion have crossed the channel. The following boys are the last to participate: Ray Miller, city; Jack Loucks, Pomona; Fitz MacChandler, N. Robach, city; Carl Spiegl, city; Clemens Spieglman, Elsinore; William Carson, Redlands, (hold over from 17th trip); Arthur Severance, city; Elmer Moore, Hooper, Moor, Covina; Alfred Gonzales, Rowley, Covina; Earl Parkhurst, Babbs, George Bertram, Francis Hoops, Azor, Nameter, Ernest Scott, Herman Goodman, Tony Gibbs, John Redley, George Elliott, Tom Henry Elliott, city; Douglas Heron, Robert Mann, Harold Arnett.

Santa Monica. CANYON TRAIL HIGHWAY PLAN. BEAUTIFUL TOPANGA TO BE MADE ACCESSIBLE.

Narrow Winding Road Which Now Skirts the Precipitous Bluffs to Be Made Wider—County Prisoners Will be Utilized to Bring About the Desired Improvement.

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 24.—Much of the native beauty and rustic charm of the Topanga Canyon trail will be changed September 1, when county convicts, acting under the orders of the Board of Supervisors, will begin the improvement of the public road leading from the beach through Topanga Canyon to Garapato.

This road was originally built by private subscription, the route having been suggested by Juan J. Carrillo, who was instrumental in raising the funds. But during recent years the development in that direction has been so rapid that the road has been found to be too narrow. At only a few places is it wide enough to afford the easy passage of vehicles, and as this is a popular county trip for the motor tourists there have been a number of accidents and a larger number of narrow escapes.

With a view to making travel through the canyon easier and safer, the Board of Supervisors has decided to reduce the grades, protect the banks and oil the surface. The work is to be done by county prisoners, whose permanent camp will be established in the canyon. This will admit of a longer day of labor and will save the expense of daily transportation between the jail and the scene of operations.

The road has been one of the most picturesque in the south. Topanga Creek winding as a silvery thread hundreds of feet below a narrow grade that has been blasted from the solid conglomerate. On the opposite bank of the narrow rift in the mountain giant rocks, of many colors, tower in weird and fantastic shapes. Looking far down the canyon, the sea is to be seen as a spot of blue wedged between the varying shades of green, formed by the mountain growth that adorns the sides of the mountains.

There has been a marked improvement in the canyon since the Topanga season last year. During the previous year, more than 150 deer hunters are now scouring the hills and a score of hunters have been brought down. The building of a tavern on the Calabasas road and the erection of a number of summer cottages has taken many summerers into the mountains for the summer season and the last of the desirable home-stead claims is said to have been taken by a woman from Portland, Or., who was so charmed with the canyon scene that she abandoned the metropolis in favor of life in the open.

WANT PASTORS. Both Methodist congregations have adopted resolutions to the conference requesting the return for the new year of the pastors who have served during the last twelve months. The Santa Monica congregation was asked to have Rev. C. W. Wentworth returned, and the worshippers at the Lake-street church have asked that Rev. G. C. Skatte be sent to minister to their religious welfare for another term.

PREACHER RESIGNS. After having served the Christian Church here as its pastor during the past two years, Rev. J. R. McIntyre has tendered his resignation. The congregation will hold a meeting Friday night, for the purpose of considering his withdrawal from the charge.

LEGAL PERMIT. The court of Justice of the Peace Brown will be busy tomorrow with the hearing of a cause in which ducks are ducks. Upon complaint of Mrs. D. Johnson, the premises of Mrs. Katherine Bloom were ransacked by a party of ducks. The party charged with the destruction of the ducks was a flock of ducks and chickens, the ownership of which is not disputed. Both parties agree that the ducks are the property of the complainant. The court charged the malicious mischief in wrecking the chicken yard in order to obtain the birds, and the defendant on her part has taken the ducks and chickens in the interest of humanity, alleging that they were not receiving the care to which they were entitled. The families reside on Bay street and the ducks are the property of the complainant. The court is in possession of the ducks and is studying the revised statutes in order to determine what disposition is to be made of the fruit.

GOLD NOT YET DISCOVERED. Descendant of Sir Francis Drake Has Not So Far as Known Found Spanish Money.

AVALON, Aug. 24.—Every foot of land within several miles radius of Ben Weston's landing where it was reported that hidden treasure to the value of $20,000,000 had been "planted" by one known only to Sir Francis Drake, the English explorer several hundred years ago, and his descendants, have been thoroughly watched and every likely place where the money could have been placed has been investigated. No trace has been found.

The two men, one who stated that his name was John Francis Drake, and his son, who was a friend of the explorer, have been together for a long time, and have been thoroughly watched and every likely place where the money could have been placed has been investigated. No trace has been found.

After the report was spread that Ryan and his friend had made negotiations with the owners of the island to remove the treasure, a number of enthusiasts trailed the two men from point to point. The owners of the island were unable to throw any light on the whereabouts of the men. However, it is believed that the men were in communication with the mainland and that during the night left Avalon in a small launch. Since Sunday the men have not visited the Painted Cave, a cave said to have been one of the markings shown on the chart in possession of Ryan. It is believed that Ryan left England two months ago, calling at Madras, Spain, to verify some geographical locations from an old record.

GLENDALF, Aug. 24.—The people of this valley are rejoicing over the report that has just been made public to the effect that regular passenger traffic will be started over the Glendale-Burbank railroad on the morning of Saturday September 2. This is earlier than the local residents anticipated, but it is believed that the company can live up to the report as very little now remains to be done on the road. The rails have been laid and the proposed terminus at Cypress street, Burbank, the poles have been set and the wires strung. The track needs still to be ballasted and tamped.

The arrangements for the celebration for the opening of the line will be held in the first Friday evening, September 1. Election of officers will be held, after which the water and wash questions will be discussed.

Anderson, who, up to a week, had served as trustee since the city was incorporated, about five years ago. Mr. Williams will finish Mr. Anderson's term of office, which expires April, 1912.

"Stunt" was arranged as a special feature for the entertainment of men of the Richard Carter company, playing in "Jumping Jupiter" at the Motion Opera-house, this week. The thespians were Col. Price's guests today, and he had to arrange for them a special entertainment for them.

After the party had ridden to the heart's content, had taken a good trip through the Venice Casino, and a dip in the ocean, Col. Price invited the party back to the coast. The party was then taken to the roller coaster car, the party was then taken to the roller coaster car, the party was then taken to the roller coaster car.

With a whirl and a dash the thespians sped about the coaster. When they arrived at the finish they were handed the first course of the dinner. No sooner had they partaken of the course than the second was served once more. Again a course was served when the party reached the end of the coaster. This was continued until the desert was served.

As the thespians got into their seats for the return trip to Los Angeles, the Hawaiian string band played "Aloha, the famous farewell salute."

The need of a genuine breakfast behind which yachts and pleasure boats might anchor and maintain permanent headquarters, was shown again in the week when the yacht Sycamore was here and was complimented today by the arrival of the boat.

RIDER THROWN; SERIOUSLY HURT.

MOTORCYCLE MAN STRIKES PAVEMENT ON HEAD.

While Turning a Corner He Hits a Truck, a Glancing Blow Which Hurls Him from Machine—By-standers Pick Him Up Unconscious—Possible Skull Fracture.

A. Yourke, an employee of the Southern California Electric Company, No. 120 East Fourth street, was dangerously injured last night as the result of a collision between the motorcycle in which he was riding and a heavy motor truck in charge of Charles Hubbard of the Pioneer Truck Company. The accident occurred at the corner of Fourth and Los Angeles streets, as Yourke attempted to cut a corner, apparently in ignorance of the presence of the truck, which was coming north on Los Angeles street at a good rate of speed.

When the driver of the truck realized that a collision could not be avoided, he turned his vehicle sharply and struck the wheel a glancing blow, which threw the rider to the pavement.

When picked up by bystanders, Yourke was unconscious and was hurried to the Crocker street hospital before the arrival of the police ambulance, which had been summoned by one of the witnesses of the accident.

While the extent of his injuries could not be ascertained with certainty last night, it was announced that probably he had received a fracture of the skull in addition to a number of serious cuts and bruises on other parts of the body.

Hubbard was taken to police headquarters but was released when an investigation showed that the accident was not due to his carelessness.

TAKE MEN, TOO.
ORDERS CHIEF.

WOMAN FROM QUESTIONABLE HOUSE HEAVILY FINED.

Head of the Police Department Declares That When Places of Doubtful Reputation Are Raided All Men Found With the Women Are to Be Arrested.

Marie Barton, No. 501 East Third street, was arrested by Patrolmen Marks and Wedge, yesterday afternoon on orders from Chief Sebastian. She was fined $500 with the alternative of 180 days in the City Jail. The woman was unable to pay the fine at the time, but declared she knew where she could get the amount and would send for it. She was locked up pending the settlement.

The woman is declared by the police to be the personal representative of May Larson in conducting a questionable house, at No. 501 East Third street. Tuesday night three women and three men were arrested there. Yesterday afternoon, Chief Sebastian ordered the officers to return to the place and stay there until they got the woman who was running the establishment for May Larson.

The chief also issued orders that in the future all men found in questionable places when they are raided are to be arrested with the women and held under heavy bail.

The chief asked Marks and Wedge the names of the men, whom they had found in the place Tuesday night, and the officers said that they didn't know and were only "bluffing" when they said they were prominent business men. The answer did not satisfy the chief.

Pending the settlement of this matter, the chief said that the men must be arrested and held with the women despite their identity.

The place raided on the chief's orders has not been entered by police officers, for years, the chief said yesterday.

Today. He did not attempt to explain in detail why it had not been raided but said that Miss Larson had been quoted as declaring that she had protection.

Miss Larson is now sought. Miss Barton, named a prominent café man as the person who would send her the money to pay her fine.

FORTUNE SQUANDERED
ON TWO PRETTY GIRLS.

Remarkable Disclosures of Extent to Which Family of Wealthy Oil Man Assert He Was "Played" by Winsome Companions on Alleged Jaunt—Say Thousands Lavished for Jewels.

FOLLOWING the publication yesterday morning of the sensational statements of the family of Charles Victor Hall, the wealthy president of the Imperial Oil Company, remarkable details came to light touching upon the extent to which two young Los Angeles girls "roped" the old man in and worked him for all they were worth, "in the words of F. D. Hall, son of the prominent Hollywood man who is asserted to have left his home and family through a craze for pretty girls.

A comfortable fortune is asserted to have been squandered on the pair, Mrs. Jessie L. Struve and Miss Lilian Bennett, according to Hall's relatives. Automobiles, diamonds, theater-boxes, transcontinental and transoceanic journeys to the greatest and most expensive resorts on the civilized globe entered largely into the hunt which the trio made together half-way round the world, following Hall's departure from Los Angeles last February.

The results of a defensive espionage upon the gay party, said to have been at the Hotel El Tovar and to have ended on the Boulevard Saint Michel in Paris, indicate that literally thousands of dollars passed as water from the fingers of the sexagenarian oil man for the benefit and entertainment of his young "nieces."

It is freely stated by the son of Hall that Mrs. Struve and Miss Bennett were fairly loaded down with jewels, pearl necklaces, diamonds, costly garments and every luxurious whim which the feminine mind can suggest.

On one occasion, according to the story, he presented Mrs. Struve with Aviation Treat Is Arranged for War Veterans.

Bleriot to Glide to Earth Soldiers' Home.

As a treat for the veterans of the Soldiers' Home, many of whom saw a man-bird in the air, Harrison Gray Otis has arranged an exhibition flight by the fast aeroplane in America, Earle Huntington's Bleriot monoplane, which he is famous. The date of the flight will be announced in the Times as soon as the details are completed.

Champion, accompanied by Gen. B. Harrison, of the Aeronautical Society of California, will go to the Soldiers' Home today to look the grounds and pick out the landing field. The aviator wishes to familiarize himself with the local conditions. He has a deep admiration for the old soldiers who have endured much, and he proposes to give exhibition, probably never equalled in the annals of aeroplanes. He expects to cover the distance from Inglewood Field to the Soldiers' Home at his fastest clip, and the flight will be worth seeing for the Bleriot attained a speed of 105 miles an hour, the wind being strong.

SURVEY ABOUT COMPLETE.
Engineers Barton of the Guaranty

phone yesterday to the home office in Los Angeles, that he had completed his permanent survey, grade stake setting and preliminary road building on the Pacific Coast. The southern ter-

Superintendent of Construction
Turner, with Engineer Parsons working north of Ventura, has only a few miles more to complete the work to the same point, they having thirty-three miles at the southern end of the work, while the other party of surveyors had only thirty miles.
This will complete the work to Ventura, whereupon Superintendent Turner will immediately commence the surveying and securing of rights-of-way south of Ventura towards Los Angeles while the Midway to Ventura part of the line is now ready for the actual construction work.
COMMITTEE IS DIVIDED.
TWO OIL LAND BILLS.
The Oil Land Legislation Committee of the Chamber of Mines and Oil held its second meeting Wednesday afternoon to consider the suggestions required to date as to a proposed leasing bill covering the disposition of the withdrawn oil lands of California.
The entire membership of this committee, consisting of S. E. Vermilyea, Frank Pierce, Dr. Norman Bridge, W.
O. O'Connell, F. J. Gordon, W. B. Robb,
R. D. Wade, Russ Avery and Albert
Wilson, was not present at the meeting of the committee, and the meeting just held developed the fact that all members of the committee were not in entire accord with the resolution passed at the first meeting. This resolution stated as the sense of the committee that the oil lands of California covered by Presidential withdrawals would probably not be released except under a leasing system,
and stated further that the committee should devote its energies to preparing a suitable bill for the leasing of public oil and gas lands, and thus in a measure limiting the activities of the committee.
After due discussion, it was finally decided by the committee, to have two sub-committees appointed from its membership, one to draft a proposed leasing bill, and the other to draft a non-leasing bill, or one which would provide another method than leasing for the disposition of our petroleum lands. This will doubtless mean that the committee will report
two bills to the directors of the chamber, or will render a majority and minority report. The sub-committee on the leasing bill has been named as the chairman of the committee, as follows: S. E. Vermilyea, Dr. Norman Bridge, Frank Pierce and Russ Avery.
The proposed non-leasing bill will be drafted and submitted by a committee consisting of Albert Wilson, W. W.
O'Connell and F. J. Gordon. Both committees desire suggestions from the oil men of California, and from the general public interested in the welfare of the oil industry. All suggestions should be addressed to the Oil Land Legislation Committee, in care of the Chamber of Mines and Oil, Los Angeles.
Strong Gas Pressure.
An enormous gas pressure at a depth exceeding 1000 feet has rendered it difficult for the Pyramid Oil Company's drillers on Section 18, 32-35 Midway, to attain rapid progress since the past few weeks. During the past few days it has been impossible to get the drill to the bottom of the well for hours at a time, and an enormous amount of gas has been released. At a depth of 2700 feet the drill encountered a hard shell stratum which bears every appearance of being the cap rock immediately overlying the oil sand. The hard shell stratum is overlapped by 700 feet of prolific oil bearing sandy green shale, and the management is confident that a producer of note is at hand. The oil taken from the last 300 feet has been of very light gravity, and it is calculated that the Pyramid well, with pressure relieved, would produce many million cubic feet of gas per day.
News Notes and Personals.
Robert Cutten and Charles Story,
both of the Amerita Oil Company are in Los Angeles, having reached from an automobile tour of the southwest. Gen. R. L. Peeler of Coalinga, a prominent oil operator, has returned after making a tour of the Coast
Hills with his family in an automobile.
He was looking for some promising ground.
Superintendent Graham of the United Camp in the Coalinga field is preparing to leave for Coalinga where his family has been located for most of the summer.
J. A. Gulbranson, Jr., has returned from San Francisco where he was called the other day by the birth of a son. His home is at Coalinga. Mr.
Gulbranson received the congratulations of his many friends.
Frank Hill, general field superintendent of the Union Oil Company, and a well-known oil man of the southern fields, is supposed to have lost his life in the Feather River country. Searching parties have not yet been able to find him.
R. J. Mooney, who is at present engaged in piloting the Standard Oil Company's big auto truck to the Los Hills country. Much material is being taken to the new field.
William Zimmerman of the Associated Supply Company, at the Coalinga branch, is spending several days in Los Angeles.
TAKE NEW POSITIONS.
The Hines system of railroad organi-

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] E. P. Ripley, president of the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe, said last night that unless business conditions improve, it will be necessary to reduce the 60,000 employees of that company.
"Prospects for any substantial betterment in the general volume of business are not very bright in my opinion," Mr. Ripley said. "The decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission in the Inter-Mountain rate case already has had a sentimental effect that has not been beneficial."
An order issued by the management of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad, dispensing with the services of about 200 clerical workers yesterday, led to a report last night that a dramatic policy of retrenchment was being enforced. L. A. Robinson, controller of the company, said:
"We are finishing up work on the year's accounts, and it is customary to cut down the extra force
when the large amount of work endorsed by this task nears completion."
"Our shops are employing full forces, and no reduction of a general nature among our employees is contemplated," said R. H. Ashton, vice-president of the company. "Our force today is about the same as it was last year."
SAN DIEGO LINE.
CONSTRUCTION TO START.
Construction of the San Diego and Arizona Railroad, westward from Seelye, in the Imperial Valley, will begin the 1st ult. Contracts have been let. The road will be built westward to a connection with the forty miles of railroad already built from San Diego eastward.
This is the railroad that is being financed by Spreckels and his associates, and is designed to furnish a direct line from San Diego, connecting with one of the trunk lines from the East, probably the Southern Pacific at El Centro or Calexico in the Imperial Valley. Four hundred men are now engaged in extending the line eastward from the track already built out from San Diego.
On Official Business.
J. B. Fawley, traveling passenger agent for the Union Pacific at Kansas City, who has journeyed forty years in railroad service, arrived in Los Angeles from San Francisco. He came tingent of the Eagles. E. W. Chapman, assistant general freight and passenger agent of the Southern Pacific at Tuc-son, passed through Los Angeles yesterday on his way home from San Francisco. F. E. Batters, general passenger agent of the Southern Pacific, has returned from a trip to San Francisco.

ROSICRUCIAN GETS AFTER MEN
ANTI-SUFFRAGISTS.
Vote for Women, She Warns Stiff-Necked Reactionists, or in the Next Life You'll Be a Woman Yourself and You Won't Have the Franchise Then, Either.
The men of California who do not vote for the suffrage amendment may, upon their return to earth in their next incarnation, discover that they are women without the right of franchise, according to Mrs. Rika Phillips, who spoke yesterday at a meeting of the Rosicrucian class at their headquarters in the Blanchard building. Several members of the Votes for Women Club, many of whom also belong to the Rosicrucian Society, were present and the doctrine of political equality was artistically blended with the mystic teachings of the Rosicrucian order. Mrs. Fannie Hunt, Mrs. Van Wiper and Mrs. Rosine Johnson, the latter chairman of the day, were present and made brief addresses. A large number of men also were in attendance and both men and women expressed themselves as advocates of woman suffrage.
In her address Mrs. Phillips said that the spirit is neither male nor female, but manifests alternately as man and woman and that it will be to the advantage of the men of the present day to give to women complete equality in every particular. She said that persons are born alternately as men and women in order that they may gain the experience necessary to make them perfect beings and that the universal enfranchisement of women would abolish the double standard of morality. She said that men take little interest in spiritual things but that woman has the positive, vital body, is in more direct touch with the spiritual order of things, is more idealistic and takes a great interest in matters that make for the moral uplift of the race.
"It has been argued," said Mrs. Phillips, "that if woman is taken away by politics that this also will break up the home. This argument does not hold good, for although during the transition stage while women have to fight for their rights until they are adjusted themselves, there may, in some cases, be a neglect of the home. In those places where the enfranchisement of women has been tried, no homes have been broken up and much good has been achieved for woman can always be counted upon to stand for any improvement which makes for morality."

house, and several of the foremost stars of the concert stage.

William A. Brady, one of the big theatrical managers of New York, says it's an easy matter for a producer to manage to tie up anywhere from $10,000 to $125,000 when he begins his season with ten to twelve new productions.

The sum sounds incredible, until one begins to summarize one's outlay, beginning with the author, who, upon acceptance of his play, receives from $500 to $3500 as advance royalty, depending entirely upon the standing of the author. If it's his first play, he is generally satisfied with $500 as advance payment, whereas Margaret Mayo, who has written several record-breaking successes, such as "Baby Mine," which had a year's run in New York and now in its second year in London, Eng., of Jules Robert Goodman, who is responsible for "Mother," receives from $2500 to $3500 advance royalty.

The scenic artist is given at least $500 upon the approval of his sketches, and receiving the balance of his money when the completed scenic equipment is delivered. The simplest equipment for a comedy in nine scenes out of ten represents at least two changes of scenery, which can be estimated at $1000 to $1200, although where elaborate settings are necessary, the cost will average $5000.

To fireproof the scenery will cost about $300.

The properties, which include furniture, carpets, draperies, etc., used in dressing the stage for a simple play, will run the expense up to another $2500. The stage director who receives the company and puts on the play, receives from $500 to $1000. The printing used for billboard and newspaper advertising, will easily reach $2500. For publicity work, cuts, photographs, etc., will amount to $2500.

With a simple play, with a light production and a small cast, the manager will have an outlay anywhere between $9000 and $10,000 before the opening performance.

BUY FOR MODEL HOMES.

Investors Purchase, Acquire About Where Street Car Barns Will be. Plans for Many Bungalows.

By a deal concluded yesterday afternoon, Bryan & Bradford and H. G. Coffey & Company, paid $110,000 cash for forty-four acres, on both sides of First, Second and Third avenues from Fifth-second street to Slauson avenue. The seller was the Angeles Mesa Land Company, which owns extensive interests throughout the southwestern part of the city.

The property almost completely surrounds the site of the Los Angeles highway Company's $200,000 reinforced concrete car barns, the construction of which is now well under way. The new owners of the acreage propose to at once begin extensive street improvements, and bungalow building with the end of establishing a model settlement for railway men. About 240 lots in all will be placed upon the market.

Another transaction in the same section was also concluded yesterday when the Angeles Mesa Land Company transferred to W. B. McConnell and certain associates, forty-seven acres between Fifth-third and Fifth-eighth avenues. The consideration in this instance is reported at $14,575. The purchasers declare their intention of improving all of the lots with houses. They say that ten of these dwellings will be started at once.

TO TAKE STRAW BALLOT ON THE SUFFRAGE ISSUE.

"The Times" Will Poll the Crowd at the Baseball Game—Representatives of Both Sides to Act as Tellers. Everybody to Vote "Yes" or "No" As They Pass in Through Washington Park Gates.

All persons (male or female) attending the baseball game in Los Angeles tomorrow afternoon are requested to vote on woman suffrage, "Yes" or "No."

This big straw ballot has been arranged by The Times in conjunction with the Votes for Women Club and the Society Opposed to Woman Suffrage.

Everybody entering the ball grounds will receive two ballots, one marked "yes" and the other "no." There will be ballot boxes under the supervision of tellers represented by each side—and the ladies ask everybody to vote. Women can vote as well as men. It is the women's first chance.

The first ballot in California on the question of equal suffrage will be taken by The Times at the Los Angeles baseball park Saturday afternoon. Not less than 4000 men and women will be offered an opportunity to express themselves on what is unquestionably the prime issue to come before the people of California at the special amendment election October 16.

Everybody who yesterday heard about the plan of The Times for taking this straw ballot declared it to be a great enterprise. The suffragists are enthusiastic about it, while the anti-suffragists snapped up the challenge like a leaping tuna taking flying fish bait, and the management of the park informed it with a mammoth O. K.

The plan was not three hours old until both sides to the contest had a battle line of brilliant forces ready to challenge the attention of every man and woman who will go to Washington Park Saturday afternoon to witness Vernon give San Francisco another wallop.

Miss Mary Foy, the sunny secretary of the Votes for Women Club, is in command of the forces of the suffragists. Mr. Dora Oliphant Coe, who, through the columns of The Times, regularly informs the public as to the movements of the anti-suffragist leaders, will be on the grounds with her tellers and watchers, her judges and clerks.

Miss Foy has promised The Times fourteen of the handsomest young women of the city to assist in taking the ballot. This corps of workers will not electioneer, but will simply assist in polling the big vote. Six of them will be at the three gates of general admission to see that every person entering Washington Park between 2 and 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon receives one of the 6000 ballots printed by The Times. Two other ladies will stand at each of the four ballot boxes to invite the votes of those who enter either of the bleachers or either wing of the grand stand. The ballots will be perforated, dividing them into two parts, one of which will bear the word "Yes" and the other the word "No." Those voting "Yes" will put in that half of their ticket and destroy the remaining portion. Those opposed to suffrage will simply reverse this order.

Four ballot boxes will be used, in order to save the possibility of congestion at the entrances. Only one person can enter the bleachers or the grand stand at one time with court and it will require only a second for each person to cast his ballot as he enters either stand. With four ballot boxes nobody can miss an opportunity to vote and at the same time it will be impossible for anybody to vote twice. That is where the watchers get in their work and where the women of Los Angeles receive their first actual political experience.

In addition to the women who will stand beside the boxes to call attention of the voters to the place of polling, both sides are welcome to have a watcher at each ballot box to see that no person repeats and that no electioneering is done at the crucial moment. Electioneering there will be, however, and in plenty. The Times will not attempt to force the 100-foot regulation. It does no mind how many women, for or against suffrage, flood the entrance with their smiles, circulars and arguments.

It may be a party secret, but The Times happens to know that Miss Foy has already selected twenty society girls to meet every car that stops either at Washington and Main streets or at Washington and Grand avenue between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock, with snowy arms filled with rainbow fliers, for the benefit of the uninitiated. It should be explained that rainbow fliers are comprised of abundant bunches of woman suffrage circulars, printed not only in red, white and blue, but in flaming yellow and royal purple.

Miss Foy's plan is to place the propaganda of her cause tomorrow afternoon in the hands of 4000 persons, regardless of how they may vote after they reach Washington Park. She intends to see to it that no one enters the park without ample instruction in favor of woman's enfranchisement. If anybody is stubborn enough to retain a negative opinion after they have listened to the arguments of from one to fifty attractive young women, Miss Foy thinks the country is too far gone for saving.

On the other hand, Mrs. Coe is delighted with the scheme and feels certain that this is one place where a handful of women enthusiasts cannot express themselves and then say that all the world thinks and feels in the same manner. She says that all the persuasion that the enthusiasts can possibly bring to bear Saturday afternoon will not turn the heads of the sound men and women who have the health and sanity to enjoy the national game. Anti-suffragists have been content, she says, to remain more or less negative, knowing very well that the men of the State will answer for them when they go to the polls in October, and she is not afraid that the 4000 straws Saturday will not show exactly whether the wind is blowing.

The Times has no other motive in taking this ballot than to give 4000 residents of Los Angeles an opportunity of expressing themselves on the biggest question in California today and of informing every other resident of Los Angeles on how these 4000 stand on the question.

The vote will be representative to a gratifying degree. It will be composite and cosmopolitan. It will be a safer expression for both sides than the vote of any church or theater. It will include all kinds of people. Of the 4000 fans who attend every Saturday afternoon game more than half are women and of the men at least half represent the professions, while the other half represent every kind of business. Twenty ministers of Los Angeles have received annual passes to the baseball ground, and two-thirds of these never miss a game. Two to four priests are nearly always present and more than 100 lawyers and 200 automobile men are fans whose enthusiasm splits the air every time Vernon, the home team, makes a hit or scores a run.

Dr. Ernest Allen, dentist, simply shuts up shop at 2 o'clock when there is a baseball game in town. Col. W. H. Bullis, of the Canadian Pacific long ago gave up trying to run railroads with the home team in peril. Earl Rogers would rather make a good defense for Vernon than to file a demurrer for a millionaire. Leon Shettler would drop a man who wanted a seven-passenger car in thirty minutes rather than miss the first inning. C. C. Parker would leave the agent who has all the translations of Bergson ready for delivery in order to reach Washington Park before the "ump" animates the diamond.

Percy Thompson, Willie Willoughby Rodman, J. W. McKinley, George Adair, F. A. Newton, John D. Mott, Ignacio Mott and Will Innis are a few other familiar faces at the mourners' bench.

A. B. Wallaber lets the weather go hang as often as a game happens and Cornelius Peidleton leaves the local port to collect its own internal revenue. Norman Church forgets that he is a capitalist and Lew Stone, Charley Eytan and Percy Bronson look at the cheering thousands without calculating for one sinister moment as to the size of jackpot the box receipts would make.

That is not a starter, but it is sufficient to guarantee the quality of attendance put up by the fans of Los Angeles. It is enough to prove that The Times will be able to announce Sunday morning what at least 4000 truly representative men and women in this city think about woman suffrage.

A Work of Art. BEAUTY MODEL AND HER FIGURE.

EXERCISES REQUIRED FOR HER DEVELOPMENT.

She Skips the Rope, Uses the Punching Bag, a Horizontal Bar and Other Exercises for the Right Body Building—Also Flips Up Her Face.

[Washington Post:] "Being a professional model is at once a very satisfactory and a very trying calling," said a slim, laughing girl as she sat on a stool, disposing the strings so that they protected her ears. "If you succeed you are on all the calendars, and your picture looks at you from the windows of the art store. If you fail you are out of it entirely."

"The trouble is that you lose your figure while you are at work. With the actress it is different. When she is playing she gets thin. It is when she rests that she gets plump. We get plump while we are posing."

"There is to be a new girl this year. You will see her on the cover and inside of the best sellers. The model who posed for last year's pictures is out of drawing this season unless she has trained her figure to meet the new requirements."

"Sitting is bad for the waist line and the hips. That is why the model who poses for society girl pictures soon goes out of date. Lying down is worse because you take on weight all over. There is only one good pose, and that is standing, and the model who keeps her shape learns to rest on her feet."

"The new girl, the one you will see this fall, is marked by certain points. Her fingers must be long."

"Her neck must be very long and very slim and it must make one lovely long line with the shoulders."

"Her waist must be very trim and very slim. It will not do to lace, for the real line must be there slightly in motion when the figure moves. This long slim waist is the most difficult thing the model has to acquire. Her arms must be long."

"The real artist's model is made, she is not born. She gets the idea that she would like to pose, and then she goes to work to train her figure. In novels and in the minds of most persons it is all a matter of nature, beauty, but the girl who has posed will tell you a different story."

"If you have ever been in the apartment of a professional model, one who loves her profession, you will have noticed that in a doorway there is a horizontal bar. This bar she uses for chin-lifting. When she gets up in the morning she takes a warm dip. For no cold baths for the professional model—and afterward she chins the bar. She thinks she must be able to lift herself as high as her chin five times in slow succession."

MODELS USE PUNCHING BAGS.

"There is also a punching bag. It used to be the thing to get out and walk, and you could see the models any afternoon tramping in Central Park with their arms and legs swinging. In half an hour they get the same amount of exercise they would get in walking three hours, and it isn't as tiresome. "The professional model has another little toy which she prizes. It is nothing more than a child's skipping rope, but it is run through a staple in the wall. She takes the ends in her hands and throws herself backward. It gives her back the best exercise in the world."

"The fourth of the exercise toys is a little rubber ball which she bounces upon the floor, jumping to catch it. She keeps it going for fifteen minutes at a time."

"Women often go to professional models asking how to improve their figures. The model, if clever, and if natured, tells such a visitor that there is no way of becoming beautiful in shape."

"But how do you get your lovely long lines?" asked a woman of a model who is famous for her nose. "My figure came natural to me," said the model, dropping her eyes modestly.

"Then you do not think it would be of any use for me to try?" asked the visitor anxiously. "None whatever," declared the model.

"The lady went away crestfallen. But scarcely was she out of sight the model went to her room and began the punching bag. She lifted it a little higher this time about the string so as to compel herself to jump for it."

"Jumping keeps my waist long," she told a friend who had heard the interview.

"Other models are better natured or they are influenced by other considerations. As for myself, I make a great deal of money teaching society ladies how to become 'as beautiful as professional models.'"

"A very good-looking lady came to see me. She was quite humble as to her looks, though, or I should not have ventured to say to her the things I had to say."

"I want to be as graceful as the models," she began. Then for fear I might misunderstand her, she quickly added: "Of course I don't want to pose, but I'd like to be very slim and graceful."

"She thought it a matter of a few lessons, for she said: 'If you give me some hints on how to be graceful it will be all right. I am very quick at picking up things.'"

"I looked at her carefully. 'It isn't picking up you need,' I observed. 'It is taking off.'"

"She colored a little. 'I suppose I'm overweight,' she admitted."

"I pulled a tape measure around her, and then said, 'You are three or four inches out of line everywhere.'"

"But my waist is small."

HOW TO KEEP BEAUTIFUL. "Too small. For your height, if you were a model, they would tell you that your waist ought to be twenty-four inches. Yours hips ought to be about forty-three inches. One cannot decide exactly; perhaps a trifle less. Your bust measure should be a small thirty-eight, no more. And your arms should not be fat."

"I'm afraid you can't make me over to that extent," she said.

"If you were a model, and had allowed yourself to get plump posing, you'd be glad enough to be made over."

"Have you any other suggestions?" she asked. "Easier ones."

"Yes, there's one. That you fix up your face a little."

"I don't understand. I am sure that I am carefully groomed, if ever a woman was."

"Yes, according to your lights. But you don't know."

"I then told her some of the things the artist's model learns to do."

"She polishes her eyebrows daily, using a fine, sweet-scented oil. The domestic woman brushes her eyebrows, using a brush that is sometimes stiff enough to pull them out by the roots. The model never clips her eyebrows. To clip the brows or to brush them with a stiff brush is to ruin them."

"What she does is to brush them with a little velvet pad, about the size of the thumb. It is made of silk velvet to match the eyebrows, and it has a drop of rose upon it, and is saturated with a good oil. This is rubbed over the eyebrows three or four times a day. It darkens them in color and thins them."

"The model always waves her hair. There are few pictures of straight-haired women. Women with absolute perfect features can wear the hair straight. Others require the softening touch of the wave. The model doesn't use the iron. She puts her precious hair up on the wavers at night, first moistening her locks with perfume."

"Try standing. After dinner carry out the dishes. If this is impractical, to being the color she wants them to be, she cannot alter the pigment, to be sure, but she can and does preserve and heighten the natural tone by the right use of jewels."

"If she wants her eyes to be a deep blue, the tone of sapphires, she wears sapphires in her ears. When she finds it convenient to have sapphire-blue eyes she chooses a very deep blue brooch, which she fastens close at her throat. This takes the blue out of her eyes, and makes them a clear gray."

"If she wants light blue eyes, turquoise blue eyes, she looks to turquoise to help her out, and winds strings of blue beads around her throat. Her eyes gather up the blue in a wonderful manner."

"Again, suppose she doesn't care about the blue eyes, but is after something more youthful in effect—say red cheeks. What does she do? Why, she wears coral. There are more red-checked, red-lipped women in the world today than ever before, and it is due to coral."

"Little bunches of tiny rosebuds under the chin, the kind English women wear, are good, and those effective dashes of red in the hat and belt bring out the color of the cheeks. The model learns these tricks."

"As for reducing one's weight, you needn't diet and you needn't worry, and you will not have to walk. Walking is the most tedious of all ways to take off flesh, unless you are willing to give your whole life to it."

"Try standing. After dinner carry out the dishes. If this is impractical, if you live in a hotel, for instance, go out upon the piazza and stand for an hour. Walk up and down with your hands behind your head."

"Running an automobile will take off the pounds. It is heavy work. "Standing with your hands clasped around the back of your neck an hour a day, fifteen minutes at a time, is good for a pound reduction a week. Bending backward to look at the ceiling directly overhead will keep the flesh from gathering under the chin."

"The most successful model of these days, a girl who is noted for her pretty, round face and slim figure, says she keeps down her weight by bathing. This young woman works bathings. She has reached the age of 34, when women normally begin to get plump. When she was 16, she began to come, she was not damaged. She went to work every day so quickly that they did not lose half a pound a day for two weeks. Yet she didn't diet."

"Housework is my secret," she says. "In my model that I run at, I carry out my trash to the dump. I bring in my big heavy cases of ice. I empty the water tub under the refrigerator, and it is always heavy. I get my own breakfast. This list doesn't include the chores, which include bringing in the milk, the rolls, and the morning paper. Of course I dust a little. By 9 I am ready to go to my work. I have exercised. Yet I haven't tired myself out as I would by walking."

NATIONAL SPORTING CLUB,
Ringside, New York, Aug. 24.
[Exclusive Dispatch.] With a left hook to the jaw after a right to the body, Sam Langford of Boston, knocked out Tony Ross of Pennsylvania, in the sixth round of their boxing bout, tonight. Ross put up a game fight, for which he was well applauded by the big crowd of members, but he was emphatically outclassed, Langford having the better of every round up to the finish.
Langford waited until the sixth,
when all had expected him to do it in the fifth. Langford has a partially I am told, for the lucky number five, which I believe has always been the favorite round for putting on the climax to a fight. Many of us who have seen him on various occasions know how he gives every man a chance for the first two or three rounds. It is rare, a whim of his.
He gives the patrons of the club a little chance for their money. It seemed inevitable that Ross would take the six in the fourth round
but, curious to relate, he not only got through it, but at the end of the fifth round, who took notes, had to mark down "Ross's round."
The result of the meeting at the National Sporting Club tonight was just what was expected, so I gather from all those with whom I conversed. I was careful to say that I had only seen Ross in the distance,
but Langford was a familiar figure.
He seems to have picked out still more during the last fifteen months,
and if one thought him invincible against all comers, but one man, that idea was intensified when taking another look over him. What he was when in London when he knocked out Ian Hague, is well remembered by me, and without knowing whether he has put on weight during the last twelve months, so I should say that his muscular development is greater than ever. His extraordinary fighting and his marvelous quickness was still impressive.
One cannot blame Ross for losing nor exactly pity him. He certainly showed considerable pluck in that fifth round. In the previous rounds he seemed to have forgotten all he ever knew and instead of going in and fighting his man, expended his power with the long swings, which only landed with the flat hand, on Lang-ford's back. They were neither effective nor convincing and he pursued pretty nearly the same tactic right through.
It was good to see him land one or two straight on the dial in the fifth.
No one thought that he would keep it up but the man had a corking "come again" and certainly did enough to stand well with his friends when talking to them later in the evening.
ROSS NOT MUCH.
He appears to be one of those big men who has learned about as much as he ever will and I will repeat that whether he was hypnotized by Langford tonight or whether it was nervousness (I don't mean lack of courage), he did not show a glimpse of any form which could commend him to be ever thought a "white hope." Still he was not exactly a "chopping block" for the colored man. In the fourth and sixth rounds, until Langford knocked him out, there was just moments when it looked very easy for Langford. In the fourth he let his man off when he had two or three obvious opportunities, but when the time came it was then that fork lightning which landed right on the point and wallop went the white man.
The prestige of Langford in England would bring him any amount of backing should he require it. There is no question that he has been so convincing when he has appeared in England. He was acclaimed as one of the most finished ring fighters ever seen. He leaves nothing to chance and seldom throws away a blow. He watches his openings, scarcely missing a chance when this is given.
His footwork is wonderful, his hitting power abnormal, and with that brain of his working up or rather framing matters with the craft of a Japanese, there is always unusual confidence with those backing him. It seems a pity that all our superlatives have to be expended on colored fighters. But there it is. We have to accept the situation.
Two of the best judges I know in England think that Langford is a phenomenon and were never tired of mentioning that when Langford weighed only 145 pounds he managed to go a whole fifteen rounds with Johnson. No one will ever take on Langford just for a joke.
I should like to pay another compliment to spectators at New York clubs.
They are most impartial and grasp the fine points of the work with wonderful discrimination. I have never seen anything better. They do not hesitate to give the bird, to use an English expression, signifying his pleasure, if merited, and they take the humorous way of showing it. In France they whistle and boo. Here they do pretty well the same thing, but there is a melody in it and I should think that Papke and Burke should remember some tunes to their dying day which were trotted out for their delectation.
As I have said above, it was so refreshing to see real stuff again. I have had many letters expressing regret that the first experience in America was such a poor one but these things will happen.

CONLEY AND KLINE, FEELING FIT, EAGER FOR GONG TO SEND THEM OFF.

BY DE WITT VAN COURT.
T VERNON, Saturday afternoon.
Jack Raymond and Roy Doan,
six rounds, catchweights.
Curley O'Connell and Willie Can-ole, ten rounds, catchweights.
Frank Conley and Patsy Kline, twenty rounds, 123 at 10 a.m.
Raymond and Doan are heavy weightweights and Canole and O'Connell will weigh just over the feather limit.
Conley, who is a bear for work, is keeping up a pretty stiff routine to the very end.
Frankie Conley and Patsy Kline
are waiting for the clock to push around the hour that will determine which little fellow is to go in pursuit of the featherweight championship of the world; the other one will be switched off on a pugilistic side-track.
He hasn't boxed since Tuesday,
when he accidentally bumped heads with Curley O'Connell and cut his head over the eye. But yesterday he played handball for half an hour
with O'Connell; punched the bag hard for four rounds; skipped the rope for five minutes; yanked the pulley for ten minutes; did shadow work and sprinted four twenty-five-yard dashes.
Yesterday, Frankie weighed 115 1/2, so it is easy to conclude that 123 pounds will not bother him.
Wednesday afternoon after his workout, Patsy Kline weighed exactly 120 pounds, two pounds under the required weight for his fight with Conley. His condition was so good at that time that he decided to do nothing until the day of the fight,
but take a short walk each day.
His one day of rest—for he did nothing yesterday—put on a pound.
He weighed 121 yesterday.
Kline is one of the few fighters that I have met that knows how to train himself. It requires a close

ATWOOD DELAYED BY ACCIDENT; GOTHAM TODAY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
N YACK (N. Y.) Aug. 24.—Another delay brought disappointment to thousands of persons along the lower Hudson River and in New York City today when Harry N. Atwood, on his record-breaking aeroplane flight from St. Louis, failed to sail over New York and land at Sheepshead Bay. Because of a defect in his engine he was compelled to land here, within twenty-five miles of his destination.
Atwood expects to resume his trip
early tomorrow and in a few hours finish the longest aeroplane flight

Mr. Wad Slipped the Seal the Black Bottle, But the Fish Must Have Been an Antidote!

HOW SHOULD IT BE MADE?
MINTOSH AND CALRE DIFFER.

that he would write out his prescription for a mint julep and Goodwin and McIntosh should do likewise and then they would leave it to Herr Reichel, of the Alexandria, for a decision.

Is Carle's recipe for mint julep?

Take a tall glass. Pour in some good bourbon spirit. Add a half dozen sprigs of tender mint. Then carefully and judiciously bruise the mint. Fill the glass to the brim with crushed ice. Take a silver spoon and stir the ice and other contents of the glass continuously for five minutes, or until the exterior of the glass is covered with a thin film of frost. In the meantime take a little powdered sugar and add sufficient water to thoroughly dissolve it. Make this a separate glass. Then when the tall glass is frosted sufficiently add slowly the sweetened water. On top of this place a spray of mint leaves with the long stems still attached. Take a half spoonful of powdered sugar, dissolve well in two ounces of water, pour into mixture, and stir thoroughly; care should be taken not to run the glass over while stirring otherwise it will melt the frost from the glass. When this is done decorate with fruits, top the glass with mint, dash a few drops of rum on top, the mint, sprinkle powdered sugar on top and serve.

In this method you get only the most delicate flavor from the young top shoots and leaves. In crushing or shaking the mint you extract the bitterness from the stems and destroy the dainty flavor which is in the leaves and young shoots only. A silver cup may be used. I prefer a thin long glass as it makes a beautiful and pleasing drink to the eye.

The preparation of the mint julep requires not less than twenty minutes.

SOUTHERN YACHTING NOTES.

HOWARD WRIGHT has laid the keel up for a year, preparatory to leaving for college. The yacht is at her mooring in the South Coast anchorage, but has been stripped of her rigging, which is stored in Moody's mill loft at Wilmington.

The Sivas's last cruise was to Clemente Island in search for a human skeleton, but the quest was not successful. The party spent a week in fishing about the island's several anchorages. Last year Wright made a trip to Clemente in the Sea Bird. While exploring the hills one of the party came upon the skeleton of one of the island's former inhabitants. The party brought it to Los Angeles and it was later placed in a museum. Wright was of the opinion that the spot, where the skeleton was found, is one of the Indian burying-grounds and that a search might bring other graves to light. This year Wright found nothing worth the trouble of bringing back.

Brundage has launched an open power boat which was built for R. Hammond of Portland. The launch is thirty-two feet over all and has a five-foot beam. The woodwork, which is not yet finished, will be entirely of quarter-sawn oak and will be about the finest in any boat of this sort on the Coast.

Work is to be started again on C. M. Simms's racer at speed as the shipment of oak, which arrived yesterday from the East, can be forwarded to Brundage's. When it is completed, Simms will have the speediest boat in the South. He expects to try for the Garbutt cup and it seems that the shipment of oak will hold off the competition in capturing it.

The Mischief II sailed for Catalina last Friday, where she will stay for a week or so. If the weather is satisfactory, her owner will take her for a cruise around the island. Those on the yacht are Mr. and Mrs. Thom and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hyman.

Morgan Adams's Mah-Fo left the South Coast Yacht Club for a cruise about the islands. Adams will visit Avalon and, later, Santa Cruz Island. In the Mah-Fo's party were Morgan Adams, skipper; Mr. Adams, Jr., and M. Armstrong and son.

Dr. Albert Holland's Viking II is on the ways at Brundage's for a new keel and repainting. The Viking is a member of the South Coast's Newport-Balboa fleet.

Joe Fellows is busy on the Campbell and there is no doubt but that she will be ready for the race around Catalina with the Mary A. for the Garbutt cup on September 17. The new engine has been placed in the boat, but it will be necessary to lift it out again in order to fix the engine as Fellows wants it. The new engine is a duplicate of the old one. The Mary A. is equipped with a motor of just twice that horsepower.

Brundage has just launched a new twenty-seven-foot cabin cruiser which has been named the Carry M. It has a five-horse motor.

E. R. Hall's cabin launch, the Ethel M. of San Diego, is on the ways at Brundage's. Hall, having brought her north for a new keel and dead-wood. The Ethel M's power plant will be changed from twin engines to a single forty-horse Gorman.

The launch that Joe Fellows has been at work on for E. M. Dewey was placed in the water a few days ago. It is of the open variety and is equipped with a twelve-horse power Ferro engine. This new member of the fleet of power pleasure craft is twenty-five feet six inches over all. The motor is one which Dewey used for some time on the Colorado River.

BOWLING

The present officers of the Southern California Bowling Association, in their meeting last Monday, decided that hereafter all tournaments of the different leagues shall be conducted entirely by the bowlers and be absolutely independent of the alley managers. No alley manager shall hold office in any league. This is certainly a step in the right direction.

Therefore, a meeting of all the bowlers in this vicinity has been called for 7:30 o'clock, Monday night, at Burbank Hall. New officers of the Southern California Bowling Association for the next year will also be elected, and the matter of devising new means for conducting the 1915 Western Bowling Congress tournament, which is to be held in Los Angeles, will also be gone into.

A singles jim-jon tournament has just been commenced at the Orpheum alleys. Here is a game in which each individual bowler has a chance. It is a notable fact in bowling that men bowling together rarely get their high scores in the same game, but in this tournament every man is for himself, and prizes now leads the bunch with 153.

At last! Bob Lacey's Venice Bowling champion has the dust, and Alf Mackenzie's Cosmopolitans were the ones who slipped the trick over. Monday night a series of three games, which constituted the first half of the match, was played on the Majestic alleys, and the Cosmopolitans came out thirty-eight pins to the good. Wednesday night at Venice, in the second half, the Cosmopolitans again led, but five pins of this lead during the first two games, and things did not look very cheerful for the Cosmopolitans. However, through some very pretty bowling on the part of Ballard, Taylor and MacKenzie, who "struck-out" in the last frame, the Cosmopolitans nosed out victorious just twenty-seven pins, or a total of thirty-two pins for the entire six games. These two teams are by far the strongest five-man bowling aggregations ever got together in Southern California, and up to now each bunch has won from the other. This surely will not settle the question of superiority, but a third series in all probability will be played.

The last night's bowling of the mixed doubles tournament at the Majestic alleys brought forth some nice bowling, especially the 200-1-3 average made by Johnson, who rolled 219, 176 and 215. Monday night Tupper cracked out the high score of 255, which caused him and his partner to easily overwhelm their opponents.

Bob Reid's fast Grand bowling base ball team will play the Athletics Sunday afternoon at Athletic Park. Both of these teams have been cleaning up with the other semi-pro teams in the Southern California, and this game means that one of them will have to drop.

CONLEY AND KLINE FIGHT.

say about the fight; he prefers to leave the talking to some one else and do the fighting when the time comes.

It will mean a bad setback to the loser of this fight, as it will take away all chances to meet the winner of the Rivers-Killbuck fight, and the winner of that contest will surely be recognized as the man best entitled to meet the champion.

In a workout with Max Webber the little 101-pounder, Joe Rivers, came very near breaking his nose with a right hand uppercut. While there was no intention on Joe's part to hurt Max, he did not realize just how hard he was hitting.

Webber is, by the way, the first man that Joe ever fought. It made quite an interesting companion, as Max weighs about the same as when he fought Joe, while Rivers has grown and developed astonishingly.

Willie Canole and Curley O'Connell are in fine condition for their bout. Curley has improved a lot in the last year and has developed a very hard punch.

While he is stronger than Canole, Willie is cleverer and makes up in that line, so it will make a very interesting bout.

Charley Eytan, who has agreed to referee in Smith's place, should receive a hearty welcome from the fans. Willie Eytan made a decision that did not meet with the approval of some of the audience at the last fight he refereed, they should also remember that good referees are almost as scarce as good teeth, and like all good men are very seldom ever appreciated until they are out of it for good. Stand by a good referee at all times and it will help the game greatly.

STRONG CRICKET TEAM TO PLAY SAN DIEGO.

W. Meggett, secretary of the Los Angeles Cricket Club, will take a very strong eleven to Coronado, to play San Diego, September 4. The team will include the following named players: W. Meggett, captain; W. G. Cochran, H. E. Evans, A. R. Mitchell, T. D. Bamford, F. Bamford, W. Madock, J. H. Rowland, A. E. Barwell, T. Brown, L. C. Wichman and A. Barnes. John Alton, president of the club, may go with the team.

This is the strongest local eleven that has ever represented Los Angeles, and should give a good account of itself. W. G. Cochran is coming all the way from Fresno to participate in the game, and Evans is coming from Santa Ana.

This picked team will be given a treat at Vineyard, Sunday, when the rest will challenge them. In this way they will get good practice and become familiar with some of the tricky bowling which they will have to play when they face Pennington and the Gutterton brothers of the border eleven.

The match at Vineyard will commence at 1:30 o'clock. Stumps will be withdrawn at 6 p.m.

PACKED ORDERED TO PASS UP EASY MONEY.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 24.—Promoter Frank Mulker has ordered Packer McFarland to cancel the match he has scheduled with Leo Kelly for Saturday on Labor Day. Mulker told Packer he would have to cancel this match with Kelly with Ad Wulgen, scheduled for September 15, at Milwaukee, would be called off.

PHILLIES PROTEST YESTERDAY'S GAME.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—President Horace Fongel of the Philadelphia National League baseball club has filed a protest with President Lynch on to-day's game between Philadelphia and Cincinnati.

Downey, the first man up in the last inning, hit a line drive to center field. Paskert ran in, dived after the ball and apparently caught it. Umpire Eason called the batter out, but when Manager Griffith of Cincinnati protested and appealed to Umpire Johnston, the latter allowed Griffith's claim that Paskert had scooped the ball from the ground. Umpire Eason then changed his decision.

FRANK G. CARPENTER'S letter in The Times Magazine the coming Sunday will report some remarkable doings in the way of plant development by United States government experts.

CONCHSA ONCE SMOTE LEOPARD.

Strong Man Got Ugly Gash for His Trouble.

He and Jimmy Britt Hunted African Game Together.

Thinks James Is the Real Goods in Wilds.

Former President Roosevelt has nothing on Jimmy Britt.

For Jimmy has shot a wart hog, a wild-beast, a gnu and a gnat and did it all in Africa in the same territory that Roosevelt traversed.

Paul Conchas, the strong man who is appearing at the Empress Theater, is authority for the statement and he speaks by the book, as he saw Britt accomplish his wonderful feat.

It all occurred eighteen months ago, but as Conchas is appearing in Los Angeles for the first time since Britt became a rival to Roosevelt, yesterday was the first time he was able to tell us the story.

Conchas, who easily wraps iron bars around his massive arms, thinks that the diminutive Jimmy Britt is the essence of courage and resourcefulness.

Britt met Conchas in London when the big man was appearing in the English theaters. Conchas is a personal friend of Hackenschmidt, the great wrestler. Conchas received a letter one sunny morning from Hackenschmidt, dated Cape Town, South Africa. It stated that he was about to dive into the dark recesses of Africa after big game and he wanted Conchas to come along.

Conchas carried the letter to his friend, the dapper Jimmy Britt.

"Come along," said Conchas, in his short, heavy way.

Britt heaved a sigh from his immaculate trousers and said that he would go.

Two days afterwards found them on a steamer headed for Cape Town. There they met Hackenschmidt and the start was made up through the heart of Africa.

HACK GETS FEVER.

They had been three weeks out of civilization when Hackenschmidt contracted a fever and Conchas left Britt with a Dutch farmer and returned to Pretoria with Hackenschmidt.

When Conchas rejoined Britt, they immediately plunged into the wilds of Rhodesia.

Col. Holtville told them of the lairs of the wild game and cautioned them about exposing themselves needlessly to danger.

To Conchas, the great strong man who never knew actually how strong he was, and to Jimmy Britt, one time champion pugilist in his class, the suggestion that they should be careful of ordinary wild animals was scorned.

Accordingly, they set a trap somewhat of the same pattern as the bear traps used in the West. They were successful in capturing a beautiful leopard measuring about eight feet in length.

Conchas and Britt stood at a safe distance and debated what was best to do. The big cat was held fast and Conchas looked him in the eye and thought that he was stronger than the cat. Britt looked the cat in the eye and thought that he could deliver a knockout blow that would do the work.

Fortunately, Britt was the saner of the two. He suggested first that they secure a big club and beat it until the cat was unconscious and then they could tie it up firmly and carry it back to the colonel's ranch.

SMITE THE LEOPARD.

Accordingly, the two men secured clubs and smote the leopard hip and thigh and soon the big cat was stretched out at full length on the ground.

Conchas rushed up to the trap and with a lever released the leopard's foot. Then he seized the animal by the middle and attempted to throw the carcass over his shoulder. As he touched the cat, it suddenly sprang into life and with one swift stroke of its paw laid open the leg of Conchas to the bone.

The big man sank to the grass and the leopard, with a disdainful wave of its tail, trotted away.

It was right here that Conchas saw that Britt showed his real nerve. He saw the wide wound showing through the trousers of Conchas, and realizing that the claws of the leopard are, as a rule, poisonous, he tore his belt from his waist and bound it tightly around the leg of the strong man and then helped him over the two-mile walk to the home of Col. Holtville.

That was the end of their hunting trip, and after three weeks in bed suffering from blood poison, Conchas was able to start on the return trip to Cape Town. Conchas shows a deep groove eight inches in length and indented fully one inch in his right leg, which was the remembrance the leopard left with him.

GOOD ONE READY.

If Bap Hogan can secure Tom Madden, as is reported that he is trying to do, Tom will prove a valuable addition to the club. He is a fast and a good hitter and can play any of the fields. More of them would do to get away from the Seals for some of them are straining themselves to play ball.

STORIA, Aug. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Sam Bellin, the famous pole vaulter, today inspected the track to be used in the all-Pacific meet here tomorrow. His verdict was that its condition is first class.

"It is a better track," declared Bellin, "than the one used in the big games held at Pittsburgh, last spring."

Everything is in readiness for the coming meet. All the athletes here, and every man tonight declared himself fit. Ralph Rose, the Olympic Club shot putter, arrived today.

NELSON SIGNS TO MEET LEW POWELL.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

[Exclusive Dispatch.] Asch Hoffman, matchmaker of the Capital Athletic Club, received a telegram today from Battling Nelson accepting terms for a twenty-round fight in this city.

September 7, with Lew Powell. Nelson says he will leave Hageswich for Sacramento tomorrow.

The fight will be staged in the baseball park and will start immediately at the conclusion of the Sacramento-Vernon game. Nelson in his telegram says that after he beats Powell, he will ask a return bout with Wolgast.

Powell has already accepted terms, and is expected to arrive here next week to commence training.

He suggested first that they secure a big club and beat it until the cat was unconscious and then they could tie it up firmly and carry it back to the colonel's ranch.

SMITE THE LEOPARD.

Accordingly, the two men secured clubs and smote the leopard hip and thigh and soon the big cat was stretched out at full length on the ground.

Conchas rushed up to the trap and with a lever released the leopard's foot. Then he seized the animal by the middle and attempted to throw the carcass over his shoulder. As he touched the cat, it suddenly sprang into life and with one swift stroke of its paw laid open the leg of Conchas to the bone.

The big man sank to the grass and the leopard, with a disdainful wave of its tail, trotted away.

It was right here that Conchas saw that Britt showed his real nerve. He saw the wide wound showing through the trousers of Conchas, and realizing that the claws of the leopard are, as a rule, poisonous, he tore his belt from his waist and bound it tightly around the leg of the strong man and then helped him over the two-mile walk to the home of Col. SONS OF THE WEST.

They had been three weeks out of civilization when Hackenschmidt contracted a fever and Conchas left Britt with a Dutch farmer and returned to Pretoria with Hackenschmidt.

When Conchas rejoined Britt, they immediately plunged into the wilds of Rhodesia.

Their experiences were conducted within at least a day's ride on horseback of the Cape Town-to-Cairo Railroad.

They eventually reached the ranch of Col. Albert Holtville, a retired English officer, and made it their headquarters.

Col. Holtville told them of the lairs of the wild game and cautioned them about exposing themselves needlessly to danger.

To Conchas, the great strong man who never knew actually how strong he was, and to Jimmy Britt, one time champion pugilist in his class, the suggestion that they should be careful of ordinary wild animals was scorned.

Accordingly, they set a trap somewhat of the same pattern as the bear traps used in the West. They were successful in capturing a beautiful leopard measuring about eight feet in length.

The animal was caught by one fore paw and while held fast, was thoroughly alive and ready for battle.

Conchas and Britt stood at a safe distance and debated what was best to do. The big cat was held fast and Conchas looked him in the eye and thought that he was stronger than the cat. Britt looked the cat in the eye and thought that he could deliver a knockout blow that would do the work.

Fortunately, Britt was the saner of

CALIFORNIA AGAINST WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

BY DORA OLIPHANT COE.

While anti-suffrage organizations are springing up in the wake of every suffrage orator who stamps the State, the real power against the passage of the eighth amendment has emanated from the offices of the Anti-Suffrage Association of Los Angeles, No. 322 Exchange building.

But the North has awakened. This week has seen the birth of a new society of women who do not want the ballot thrust upon them. The names of the women at the head of this new organization are known throughout the length and breadth of this continent as standing for the highest mental and moral development of the race.

The officers of the northern association are: President, Mrs. C. L. Goddard, Carleton Hotel, Berkeley. First vice-president, Mrs. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, wife of the president of the University of California. Second vice-president, Mrs. M. C. Snow, wife of Judge Snow, one of the admitted honest Supreme Judges of the State of California.

Secretary, Mrs. F. A. Hus, No. 1423 Adeline street, Oakland. Treasurer, Miss Elmer V. de Fremery, De Fremery Park, Oakland. Honorary vice-presidents, Mrs. John Garber, Mrs. Charles Blake, Mrs. E. F. Hathaway, all of Berkeley, and George N. Hawley and Mrs. I. N. Regan, of Oakland, and Mrs. Selden Wright of San Francisco.

The executive chairman, list as yet incomplete, includes Misses Thomas Bacon, W. B. Seabury, W. S. Wattles, E. B. Clapp, Charles M. Gayley, Ann Mon Blake, Mason Kinne, and Herman Schussler, and Miss Anna Head. The headquarters of the new organization are in the St. Paul building, Geary and Powell streets, San Francisco.

Two important meetings for which complete arrangements have been made are one on the 25th of August, at McDonough Theater, Oakland, and one on August 30, at Scottish Rite Hall, San Francisco. John P. Irish will be the speaker at both meetings.

Vacation Club to Hold Mammoth Indian and Colonial Entertainment as Benefit Next Week.

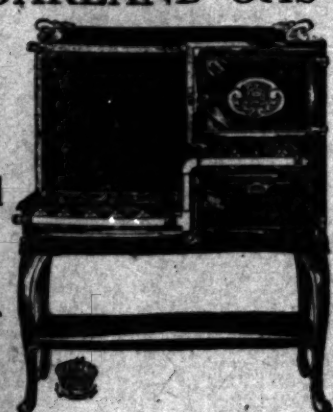

Getting into full swing for their mammoth Indian and Colonial entertainment to be given a week from Friday, 100 lads and lasses of the Vermont Square Vacation Athletic Club met at the Normandie-avenue school grounds yesterday for their first full-dress rehearsal. In the correct costumes of the colonists and aborigines of old they performed gracefully in drills and historic scenes under the direction of Y. P. Rothwell, organizer of the club. The funds realized from the entertainment are to be devoted to buying more equipment for the club and this has been the immense spur to interest in the affair.

Among the features of the entertainment will be a mimic torturing of a paleface by the Indians, and at the drill yesterday the Indians played their part so perfectly as to cause not a little annoyance to their poor victim. Roy Davis, aged 15 years, is the noble redskin who does the torturing but at every rehearsal a new victim has to be chosen and the lad, who is

The Vermont Square Vacation Club is only three months old. It was organized under the patronage of the Parent-Teachers' Association of the Normandie-avenue school, following an address by Rothwell on "The Boy and Girl Problem" in the Pilgrim Congregational Church. Rev. Tyler Bennett, the pastor and an enthusiast for physical training, offered Rothwell the church in which to hold classes. The club has been meeting two and three times a week, the boys working at the manual arts grounds, and the girls in the Normandie-avenue school.

BUNGALOW TO BE REOPENED ON THE 29TH.

Did you ever dream about a little home, nestled among luxurious vines? Surely you have, and you thought about it too, a lot when you were back East, wearing an overcoat and muffler and trying to keep the furnace fire from going back on you. And you were thinking about sunny California and a bungalow. One always thinks about bungalows with California. They go together. You were thinking of better days and Omar's "Remoulded nearer to the heart's desire."

But now, since you are in California, whether your dream has been realized or not, you may "brow" in a newly remodeled bungalow at your own free will. No, it's not on a regular size city lot. It is too large for that. Neither is it out on a country estate, but right here in the heart of the city in a department store—a large, six-room bungalow, and not a portable one either. A real fifty-seven-foot bungalow, almost lost on the third floor, furniture department, at Hamburger's. It is not exactly new, but has been entirely redecorated and refurnished. Many tourists and Angelenos have perhaps seen it, but you will find it new in every detail.

The living-room is the first one entered from the pergola-like porch and here one is impressed with the tiled fireplace and French windows. The dining-room is wainscoted with leather and finished with dark tapestry paper, while the library is finished in beautiful brown, which corresponds beautifully with the artistic Lambert's Arts and Crafts furniture with which these three rooms are furnished. Many pieces of cut glass embellish the dining-room and the spotless kitchen, with its fireless cooker, its gas stove and sink, is complete even to the smallest kitchen utensil.

As for the bed-room, which contains a beautiful brass bed and bird's-eye maple furniture, it is dainty and restful with walls and creosote of a soft pink. Adjoining is the bathroom which has every convenience.
